BRIAND PICKS NEW CABINET FOR FRANCE

Former Prime Minister Will be Premier and Foreign Minister in New Government Body

WILL DEMAND EXECUTION OF TREATY BELIEF IN PARIS

Press Not Enthusiastic Over the Cabinet Selected by New Premier

PARIS.—A Briand, former French prime minister, succeeded Sunday in the task undertaken by him to form a cabinet in succession to the ministry of Premier Leygues, which resigned last Wednesday.

Besides the premiership, M. Briand takes the ministry of foreign affairs. Louis Barthou becomes minister of finance.

Shortly before 6:30 o'clock Sunday night M. Briand presented the official cabinet list to President Millerand. The ministry is made up as follows:

The Cabinet

Premier and minister of foreign affairs—Aristide Briand.
Premier of Justice—M. Bonnevay.
Interior—Pierre Marraud.
War—Louis Barthou.
Marine—Gabriel Guisthau.
Finance—Paul Doumer.
Public instruction—Victor Berard.
Agriculture—Edmond Lefebvre du Prey.
Commerce—Lucien Dior.
Pension—Andre Maginot.
Public works—Yves le Troquer.

"It is not the great cabinet,' but it is a great cabinet I have formed," said Premier Briand. "My ministers and myself will be busy men looking after France's internal affairs. We have confidence that the American administration will look after its own affairs. It may be Republican, it may be Democratic—it matters little, it is always pro-French, I am sure. Please tell them that in America."

Debut Next Tuesday

"My ministry will make its bow in the chamber Tuesday. It may be that a representative of France will meet the British and Italian delegates the next day. I have asked for no postponement. France will meet the foreign delegates and discuss questions of international interest as if there were no ministerial crisis in France."

The general impression in political circles is that the cabinet as constituted by M. Briand is a very powerful element, although many are deploring the absence of M. Poincare and Viviani from the combination.

Mr. Briand has succeeded in forming his seventh cabinet, which, as he says himself, embodies "national unity."

Press Not Enthusiastic

Little enthusiasm Monday was evinced by Paris newspapers over the new Briand cabinet. Most journals expressed mild satisfaction or reserved judgment.

The Journal said: "It contains every element except Simon pure royalists and communists."

The Figaro: "It is the usual patchwork ministry according to the pre-war formula."

The Oeuvre: "We have a new ministry; shall we have a new government?"

The significance of the appointment of M. Briand as premier was lost upon the people. They recalled his friendship with Clemenceau, who while premier assisted in framing the Versailles treaty and the close ties uniting him with M. Poincare, who stood for strict enforcement of the Versailles pact. Mr. Briand has insisted that the treaty must be 'carried out and that the interests of France in the Near East must be served.

M. Briand has been an advocate of complete solidarity between France, Great Britain and the United States.

His radical tendencies are subject of comment, his early association with Jean Jaures, the socialist leader assassinated in 1914, being one of the salient features of his advance in politics. French socialism, which has been torn by dissension between communists and more moderate elements, may find in M. Briand a man who can do much toward uniting factions and saving the party as a political power.

OFFERS REWARD FOR CONVICTION OF MEN WHO ATTACKED HIM

LINCOLN, Neb.—Ed B. Hafertepen of Cincinnati, who has secreted himself at a local hotel for four weeks, Monday announced he has offered a reward of $500 for the conviction of the leader of the gang which he says has made seven attempts upon his life during the past two months. He says the gang represents a gambling syndicate of Cincinnati.

The syndicate, he says, believes he has opposed it in the operation of places where bets are accepted on horse races.

COMMITTEE WORKS OUT NEW PLAN FOR TEACHERS' PENSION

Chairman of Special Legislative Committee Points Out Need for Changes in Law

ASKS ACTION TO ESTABLISH SOUND FINANCIAL FOOTING

Designed to Aid Teachers Who Grow Old in the Service

BY FRED L. HOLMES

MADISON, Wis.—That the teachers' retirement fund law must undergo many changes at this session of the legislature to develop it "from a financial hazard to a sound institution" is the statement of Senator Antone Kuckuk, who as chairman of the legislative committee spent the year making a complete investigation. The report of the committee is now being tentatively formulated and will soon be ready for presentation to the legislature. In arriving at the conclusions the committee has had the aid of the teachers' committees of the state and the advice of nearly 1,000 teachers who attended the hearings or wrote letters.

The legislative committee which made this investigation is composed of Senator Antone Kuckuk, Shawano, and Senator George B. Skogmo, River Falls, and Assembly Riley S. Young, Walworth county, R. M. Hansen, Waupaca county, and John T. Williams, Iowa county.

"The present Wisconsin teachers' retirement fund is in such a straightened financial condition that some action must be taken by the legislature to put it on a sound and permanent financial footing," said Senator Kuckuk. "With the co-operation of the teachers and interested people of the state a new plan has been worked out, which greatly changes the scope of the present law.

Safeguard Teachers' Rights

"First of all every teacher who has made contributions to the present teachers' fund will receive all of the benefits that are promised. Their every right and privilege has been sacredly guarded in working out the new plan.

"The tentative plan which we are developing will not only be open to the teachers outside of Milwaukee, but normal school teachers and the university staff may be brought within its provisions if the legislature so desires. The essential core of the new plan is that it is designed to aid in old age, the teacher who desires to dedicate her life to the state. Under the present law each teacher is contributing from one per cent to two per cent of her salary to the support of the fund. In round numbers 11,000 of these teachers, according to the statistics gathered, never intend to follow the teaching profession and seldom follow it for a longer period than five years. Out of 100 teachers entering the profession 18 are in the service at the end of twenty-five years. To meet the objection of teachers who do not intend to continue as such, the suggested plan asks for no contribution for a teacher under 25 years of age.

Teachers Contribute

"This immediately brings the plan down to a basis of aiding those who have likelihood of following the profession. All teachers in the state over the age of 25 years must make contributions to the teachers' refirement fund. It is proposed to take a contribution out of the teachers' salary of 5 per cent. At the end of each year the state will make a contribution determined by the amount of the teachers' deposits and increasing with the length of service. The sums paid by the state and the teacher are credited to a separate account kept by the state in the name of the teacher.

"Under the present law to draw the annuity a teacher can only withdraw at the end of 25 years of service, not before. Under the plan now proposed the teacher is permitted to retire at any time, but the amount of the annuity will be determined by the amount of contributions which the state and teacher has made to the fund through the years of service rendered. Since the contributions of the teacher are based on salary, the amounts of the annuity vary, but the general principle is applicable to all cases. Annuities are only paid upon retirement and not while the teacher is still teaching.

Annuity on Retirement

"For example, under the new plan a teacher whose service has brought her an average annual income of $900 will by the state's and her contributions have built up at the age of 50 a fund of $4,951 and will be entitled to an annual annuity of $336 while she lives. The same teacher at the same salary retiring at the age of 55 years would have an annual annuity of $518; at the age of 60 years, $791, and at the age of 65 years, $1,207. Instead of encouraging a teacher to retire at the end of 25 years, as the old law, this suggested law offers the encouragement of a larger annual annuity by remaining longer in the service.

By this plan a teacher could retire at ten years, if desired, but the amount of annuity will be measured by the length of her service and the contributions made by her and the state to the fund. The annuity on the state's contributions except in case of disability, however, becomes avail-

U. S. NOTE TO JAPAN ON LANGDON DEATH SUGGESTS WITHDRAWAL FROM SIBERIA

MANILA.—The Russian wife of Naval Lieut. W. H. Langdon, American officer killed by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok recently, ended her life upon learning of her husband's death, according to a Reuter dispatch from Vladivostok.

TOKIO, Jan. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Government officials have not made public the text of the American note protesting against the shooting of Naval Lieut. W. H. Langdon, by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok. Publicists, however, express the belief that Washington has not only asked reparation with guarantees removing a probability of similar incidents in future, but also has again pointed out to Japan the wisdom of reducing if not withdrawing her troops from the country where she possesses no sovereign rights, but the litteral of which is dominated by her military power.

A division of opinion exists in government circles as to the Siberian problem, it is reported here. Leaders of the military party insist Japanese troops should remain in Siberia, while the peace treaty is seeking to abandon any adventure, which, it is claimed, is ruinously expensive and without hope of compensation.

The Hara cabinet appears to retain its strength and it is believed it will survive the impending session of the Japanese diet, at which relations between this country and America will be discussed.

The correspondent of the Associated Press who has just returned to Tokio from a visit to cities of the Far East, found uneasiness regarding relations between Japan and the United States. In well informed circles these misgivings appeared based more upon what was described as "Japan's resentment to any American policy calculated to curb Japanese expansion in Asia," than upon the California question. The latter problem, while touching Japan's national prestige and the interests of Japanese in America, is apparently not regarded with the same seriousness as the question of Japan's vital interests near Nippon.

Efforts of the American state department, through Ambassador Morris, have profoundly impressed the Japanese with the fairness of the United States. For this reason the killing of Lieut. Langdon is genuinely regretted here because it is believed it will have the effect of reopening the entire question of Japanese military occupation of Siberia, concerning which America has in the past sent several protests to Tokio.

KILLED BY JAPS

WARREN H. LANGDON

The U. S. state department has sent a strong protest to Japan over the shooting of Lieut. Warren H. Langdon of Jamaica Plain, Mass., by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok, Russia. Langdon was chief engineer of the U. S. cruiser Albany. He was shot in the back and killed while returning to his ship after shore leave.

AUTHER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY

Eloper Fails to Furnish Bail and is Remanded to Madison Jail

MADISON, Wis.—Pierre P. Auther, who two weeks ago eloped with the wife of Philip Franzen of Madison, was arraigned in superior court here Monday morning on the charge of grand larceny, and pleaded not guilty.

The preliminary hearing before Judge Hoppman was set for Thursday afternoon. Auther was not able to furnish the $1,000 bail set by the judge and went back to jail.

The charge of grand larceny was preferred by Franzen on account of an alleged theft by Auther of $110, on the night he took Mrs. Franzon from her home.

The court-room was crowded when Auther was arraigned. He appeared non-committal toward everything that went on, and entered his plea of not guilty with an emphatic gesture. Neither Franzen nor his wife were present at the opening of the case.

Auther was brought here Sunday following his arrest in Highland Park, Ill., and after he had waived extradition rights.

Ready to Appear

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Mrs. Franzen will remain at her post by the telephone, in connection with Madison, she said, for she has Auther's promise to summon her immediately if he needs proof that the $110 was contributed by her husband as a "free will offering" to defray expenses, and was not taken by him at the point of a revolver.

PAY TRIBUTE TO BEN FRANKLIN ON BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Thousands of Philadelphians paused Monday at the iron gates that protect the entrance to Christ church burial grounds in the wholesale business district of Philadelphia, to pay tribute to Benjamin Franklin, whose grave and that of his wife are just within.

The 215th anniversary of Franklin's birth was widely observed by many organizations.

DUBLIN'S BIGGEST RAID UNDER WAY BY BRITISH ARMY

Square Mile in North Section of City Cordoned off by Police and Soldiers

DUBLIN.—The military raid begun here Sunday, during which an area a mile square in North Dublin was cordoned by soldiers and police, was planned to last forty-eight hours and was still in progress Monday. Some workmen who established their identity were allowed to pass the cordon but houses once searched were closed with barbed wire to prevent certain men wanted by the police from obtaining refuge in them.

The object of the raid, it was said, was the arrest of these men and the seizure of arms, but thus far only two arrests have been made and no arms have been discovered. The operation likely will be extended to other parts of the city.

Concealed stores of arms and ammunition are officially reported to have been discovered in Glenworth castle in the martial law area of Cork.

The center of the cordoned district includes Church street and the place where the soldiers were ambushed recently, and North King street, the scene of fierce fighting in the Easter rebellion.

A total area of a square mile is surrounded, and the biggest raid Dublin has yet experienced has been under way.

Only the military have been engaged inside the cordon and it is believed every house will be systematically searched, the raid lasting several days.

Hundreds of soldiers are taking part, and field kitchens are providing them with food.

HARDING AND WIFE REFUSE INVITATION TO CHARITY BALL

WASHINGTON. — President-elect and Mrs. Harding have declined an invitation to attend a charity ball March 4 as a substitute for the discarded inauguration ball. Mr. Harding replied he could not with propriety attend a ball of any sort at the time, in view of the opinions he had expressed against holding an inaugural ball. The charity ball plan will not be abandoned, however.

HARDING PLANS EXTRA SESSION FOR APRIL 4TH

EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL REPORTED TO THE SENATE

Believed Amendments Attached to Measure Will Mean its Defeat

WASHINGTON. — President-elect Harding practically has decided to call a special session of the new congress on April 4, members of the house ways and means committee were informed Monday by Chairman Fordney, who has just returned from a conference with Mr. Harding at Marion.

Mr. Fordney discussed with Mr. Harding general taxation and tariff questions which will come before the special session. The chairman was understood to have told Mr. Harding that the date of the session had a direct bearing on the tariff revision hearings which the committee is now conducting and it was said that Mr. Harding informed him that April 4 practically had been decided upon.

Predict Defeat of Tariff Bill

Carrying amendments which many proponents believed spelled its doom in the senate, the Fordney Emergency Tariff bill was ready to be reported out Monday by the senate finance committee. Supported by agricultural interests as affording vital protection to farm products, the measure was attacked by others as an instrument for maintaining abnormal price levels.

Ten amendments, broadening the measure to include practically all farm products had been added to the bill by the committee and opponents had served notice that an attempt would be made to load on more when the measure reached the senate floor.

Approve War Law Repeal

The house resolution proposing repeal of most special war time laws was approved Monday by the senate judiciary committee. Under a committee amendment the operation of the food and fuel contract act would be continued.

LA CROSSE CURLERS DEFEAT GALESVILLE IN CONTEST SUNDAY

Locals Win First 7 to 6 and Second Game Ends With 10 to 10 Tie Score

A La Crosse Curling team journeyed to Galesville for a match with the famed and renowned curlers of that city Sunday and returned with one victory in the first game and a tie score in the second.

Two games of ten heads each were played, the locals winning the first by a score of 7 to 6, the second game ending in a 10 to 10 tie. The principal reason for the match was to get the Curlers in shape for the Bonspiel to be held in Galesville on Burns Day, January 24 and 25. The local curlers received practice for the events to be staged during the Winter carnival here.

All out-door sportsters are invited to join the ranks of the Curlers and to witness the games in order that the game may be boosted and place La Crosse along with other cities of the state in this winter sport.

The curlers from La Crosse who took part in the events yesterday were: Jack Sullivan, of Football fame; Jack Verhulst, the busy man of the carnival; Charlie Cohn, the man who does things, and Arthur Dusty, an old timer at the game.

SOUTHERNER SHOOTS FAMILY

CHARLESTON, S. C.—Crazed by brooding over financial difficulties and family troubles in which an estate worth probably $75,000 was at stake, L. S. Bigham shot his mother his sister and the latter's two adopted children last Saturday, then ended his own life, according to information Monday from Florence, S. C.

NEBULA DREYER 584 COPS SPEED RECORD AMONG THE STARS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—The Nebula Dreyer, Number 584, in the constellation of Cetus, has broken all known speed records of the heavens. It is dashing through space away from the earth at a velocity of almost 2,000 kilometers a second, the highest speed ever attained by a celestial object. This was the word received at the Harvard college observatory Monday from Dr. V. M. Slipper of the Lowell observatory, Flagstaff, Arizona, in announcing the result of observations there.

JAIL FOR PROFITEERS URGED BY LENROOT IN JANESVILLE ADDRESS

Proposes Amendment to the Constitution to Provide Adequate Punishment

SUGGESTS AID TO FARMER AS CURB TO NON-PARTISANS

Best Way to Fight Radicalism is to Solve Farm Problem

HIGH-LIGHTS ON LENROOT'S SPEECH

"Coal operators have been exacting profits as high as 300 per cent. This criminal profiteering must stop. If the constitution does not give the federal government sufficient power to stop it the constitution must be amended."

* * * *

"If the republican party does not take hold of this question and give the people relief, then the lease of power it enjoys will be short indeed."

* * * *

"If it is wrong for organized labor to boycott a manufacturer who does not employ union labor, it is wrong for a manufacturer to boycott a contractor who does employ union labor."

* * * *

"The non-partisan league paints rainbows that are never to be anything but rainbows. It makes promises that can never be fulfilled. In it no farmer has a real friend."

* * * *

"The best way to fight the non-partisan league in Wisconsin and the radicalism that it represents is at this session of the legislature to take up the problem of the farmer and to the fullest extent of power of the state to assist him in securing better marketing facilities."

* * * *

"We cannot have class government in this country either by organized wealth, organized labor or organized farmers."

* * * *

"If our legislature shall grapple with the problems we have determination to help all the people; if it shall be progressive but not radical, it will do more to kill radicalism and the non-partisan league than all the denunciations that may be heaped upon it by a thousand orators."

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Amendment of the constitution to provide for jailing of criminal profiteers and smashing of radicalism and the non-partisan league in Wisconsin by a concerted effort to aid the farmer were urged by United States Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, in a speech to a gathering of republicans here Saturday night.

Lenroot declared that it has been conclusively shown that coal operators have been exacting profits from the American people as high as 300 per cent.

"If we had a department of justice that would perform its duty, some of these men would be in the penitentiary today," he said. "This criminal profiteering must stop. If the constitution does not give the federal government sufficient power to stop it, the constitution must be amended."

Farmer Has Suffered

The farmer, Lenroot declared, has suffered more than others as a result of falling prices.

This, he said, was due largely to inequality of bargaining power on his part.

"The farmer must organize economically; he must have beet market facilities; he must through organization be placed in a position where he shall have some voice in the prices he receives for his product," said Lenroot.

Lenroot then launched into a query as to what the republican party could do about the situation.

"Upon the answer to this depends the future of the republican party in the nation and in the state of Wisconsin," he said.

Hits League "Rainbows"

The nonpartisan league paints rainbows that are never to be anything but rainbows, Lenroot said:

"It makes promises than can never be fulfilled," he said.

"In it no farmer has a real friend.

"The best way to fight the nonpartisan league in Wisconsin and the radicalism that it represents is at this session of the state legislature to take up the problem of the farmer and to the fullest extent of the power of the state to assist him in securing better marketing facilities; to encourage him to form co-operative associations and conduct them on business principles."

CALL CASE IN WHICH MAN IS KILLED IN RAID

LEHR ATTACKED WITH AN AXE AFTER EVIDENCE IS DESTROYED

Judge Landis Opens United States Court Here With Busy Term in Sight

Trial of the case against Nicholas Nedemowitch, farmer living near Baraboo, charged with having in his possession a large quantity of moonshine liquor and raisin mash, in the raid of whose place on September 16 his brother, Joseph Nedemowitch, was shot and killed by Prohibition Agent William Lehr, marked the opening United States court before Judge Landis here today.

Both Lehr and Prohibition Agent Carl Henning told the story of the killing, which was prompted, they said, when Joseph charged Lehr with upraised axe after demolishing two jars containing liquor with the weapon.

Henning testified that Joseph attacked him during the search of the buildings on the farm, grabbing him by the throat, but witness shook him off and told Nicholas to look after his brother.

When the two prohibition agents had rounded up two barrels of raisin mash and two jars of moonshine liquor the stuff was placed in the front yard and Lehr was left to guard it and watch the two brothers, while Henning went to search for a still.

Hears Five Shots

Henning said he was in a swamp back of the barn, following a path when he heard one shot and an instant later four more shots. He ran to the house and found Joe Nedemowitch with the axe still in his hand, staggering toward the house. He fell an instant later and died in five minutes, witness said, before a doctor arrived from Baraboo.

Lehr testified that Joe sat on the porch mumbling to himself after Henning went back of the house. Nicholas seemed to be worried about feeding the stock and Lehr permitted him to go back to the barn and take care of the pigs. Joe finally jumped off the porch and dashed around the corner of the house, Lehr testified. He returned in an instant with an axe and running to the evidence, smashed the two jars containing moonshine liquor.

Lehr said he backed off a rod or two as Joe finished the demolition of the jars and started toward him with axe swinging over his head, shouting "I'll kill you now you ———."

Shoots Man With Axe

Lehr said that Joe made a movement toward his hip pocket and as he did, witness pulled his revolver and shot at the farmer. As the latter continued to run toward him he then fired four shots. With the last shot Joe fell to his knees but got the evidence and staggered toward the evidence. Near the house he fell again and did not arise.

On cross examination of Henning counsel for defendant adduced the fact that the man who had directed the prohibition agents to the Nedemowitch farm had said he had purchased two pints of liquor from Joe.

Said He Had No Liquor

Witness said that Nicholas had offered no objections to the search of the premises, inviting the agents to look over the buildings, as "he did not have anything." Nicholas seemed surprised when two barrels of raisin mash and four boxes of raisins were found in the granary.

Trial of the case will occupy practically the entire day.

Announcement was made that the trial of the case of Art Jackson, charged with transporting liquor in

PRINT PAPER PRICES SET NEW HIGH RECORD

American Publishers Face Rising Cost of Production in 1921

NEW YORK—While the cost of living is sagging, and the cost of production in most lines of business is dropping, American publishers meet with still further price increases.

News print paper contracts for the first quarter of 1921 call for $6.50 per hundredweight. This is the highest figure print paper ever has been sold by contract. The "spot" market price is considerable higher.

The largest price increase in history was scored during 1920, and is reflected in the $6.50 contract price American and Canadian paper mills are charging for January, February and March, 1921.

Before 1916 the price of news print maintained an almost even level at between $1.92 and $2. It did not pass the latter figure until July, 1916 when it began a steady climb, reaching $3.11 in April, 1917. About January, 1918, there was a slight drop, but by the end of the year the price had gone up to $3.73.

The first $4 contract paper price was reached in December, 1919.

In the latter part of 1920, when all other prices were starting downward, print paper continued upward, going to $5.66 in November. The 1921 contract price (for January, February and March) is $6.50. This is 50 per cent higher than the January (1920) price; it is 100 per cent higher than the 1918 average price, and is more than 200 per cent higher than print paper ever sold at, under contract, before the war.

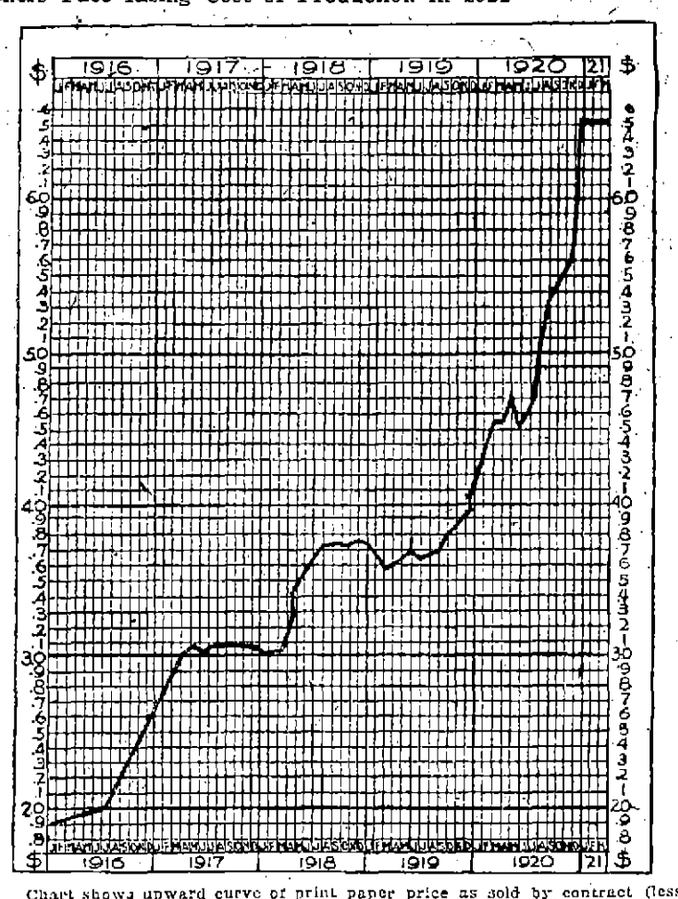

Chart shows upward curve of print paper price as sold by contract (less than "spot" market price) from January, 1916, when it was $1.94 per hundredweight, to and including the first three months of 1921, contract price now being $6.50.

DANCER ARRESTED ON FOUR-YEAR-OLD MILWAUKEE WARRANT

MILAWUKEE, Wis.—Vassos Kanellos, Greek dancer, who appeared in a program of dramatic dances at a local theater Sunday, was arrested as he stepped off the stage following the performance, on a four-year-old warrant charging abandonment. The warrant, preferred by a former wife, charges the abandonment of their three-year-old child. Kanellos several months ago married Charlotte Markham, prominent in society circles in Milwaukee and Manitowoc, who assists him in his dances.

Kanellos was out on a $500 bond to assure his appearance in district court Monday.

SHIPPING BOARD TO TO SETTLE DISPUTE OVER WOODEN SHIPS

WASHINGTON.—Decision to take jurisdiction over claims arising out of cancellation of contracts for the construction of wooden ships was announced Monday by the shipping board. All such claims should be promptly settled, the board said, and examination of the facts concerning the cancellation of wooden ship contracts will be begun immediately.

Representatives of the Emergency shipbuilders association recently petitioned the board to take jurisdiction over these claims rather than require their settlement in the civil courts. They estimated that between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 was involved.

ASK LAW TO GOVERN SALE OF UNIMPROVED WISCONSIN LANDS

Fond du Lac Man to Introduce Bill to Protect Immigrants to Northern Territory

MADISON, Wis.—A blue sky law governing sale of unimproved land to settlers in northern Wisconsin will be proposed as one of the important measures of the present session of the legislature affecting agriculture. Senator W. A. Titus of Fond du Lac announced. He is preparing the legislation to safeguard the Wisconsin immigrants to the northern sections of the state.

Under the proposed law, application would be made by the seller to the state immigration commissioner at Madison. Before the sale could be consumated, an investigation would be made by the county agent or by an agent of the immigration commissioner to establish the agricultural possibilities of the land. Terms of the proposed law would either give the agent authority to refuse a permit for sale or facts of the case could be put by the agent to the prospective buyer, leaving final determination up to him after he had been given the facts.

"There is great need for protective legislation safeguarding settlers from buying farms which, after great time and labor has been spent in clearing them, prove to be unsuited for agriculture," said Senator Titus. "Large areas of the northern part of the state are exceptionally well adapted to agriculture after they are cleared and there appears to be no reason why buyers should be inveigled into purchase of land unfit for farming."

Wisconsin would become a mecca for settlers if assurance could be given them that the land they were buying was fitted for agricultural purposes, the senator explained. He said that land companies would benefit rather than suffer from the application of a law which would keep bringing large numbers of substantial buyers to the state.

Constitutionality of the proposed law was declared to be unquestioned, because of the fact that courts have upheld the blue sky law in its application to the sale of stocks and bonds. Legislation of the proposed nature is declared to be unique by the legislative reference library, which has found practically no precedent on which to base the drafting of the bill.

The immigration commissioner and department of agriculture are declared interested in the proposed measure and are ready to give their support to secure its passage when introduced.

WALKER WHITESIDE'S SEAT SALE OPENS

Seats were placed on sale at the box office of the La Crosse theater Monday morning for Walker Whiteside's engagement on Wednesday night, January 19th. Despite the fact that Mr. Whiteside has not been seen in this city in many years, the demands for tickets would indicate that he has not been forgotten. Recent engagements in Chicago, St. Paul and, Minneapolis, Milwaukee Madison, and other nearby cities have kept local theater goers posted as to the success achieved by Walker Whiteside in his present play, "The Master of Ballantrae." This fine romantic play was brought out by Mr. Whiteside more than two years ago, and he has since presented it in most of the great cities of America. The superb company which will be seen in Mr. Whiteside's support, is superior in every respect, and the splendid stage investiture should prove most satisfying. The play is in three acts, and the theme follows closely Stevenson's original story of adventure, love, romance and mystery. Mr. Whiteside's role permits him to portray a dashing young adventurer, James Durie, the master of the great estates of Durrisdeer and Ballantrae, in Scotland. This gay rogue has been a soldier with Bonnie Prince Charlie, a buccaneer with the notorious Blackbeard, a fighter of American Indians, a student of Hindu magic in India, and a debauchee at the fast French court in Paris.

LOWDEN CONSIDERED FOR FEDERAL POST UNDER HARDING RULE

MARION, Ohio.—Frank N. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, was called into consultation by President-elect Harding Monday to discuss problems of the coming administration.

It was understood cabinet and diplomatic appointments were to be considered, with attention centering on the advisability of selecting Mr. Lowden himself for service in some high government position.

Will H. Hays, republican national chairman, was another caller. Mr. Hays' appointment as postmaster general, has been forecast and it is understood that today Mr. Harding desired to go over with his the entire cabinet situation.

DRIVE AWAY HEADACHE

Rub Musterole on Forehead and Temples

A headache remedy without the dangers of "headache medicine." Relieves headache and that miserable feeling from colds or congestion. And it acts at once! Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Used only externally, and in no way can it affect stomach and heart, as some internal medicines do.

Excellent for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, all pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

KENTUCKY TOBACCO MARKETS REOPENED

Selling of 1920 Crop Resumed After Two Week Hold-Up

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Selling of the 1920 crop of Burley or cigarette tobacco, in Central Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, was resumed Monday after a delay of thirteen days, due to efforts of growers to force prices to a higher level. Promises that they will do all in their power to make a "satisfactory market" have been made by manufacturers, who purchase most of the crop.

The markets in most of the districts have been closed since January 4, when growers virtually forced warehousemen to close their doors because of the low prices offered.

COLDS RELIEVED BY TURPO

The Turpentine Ointment That Gives Immediate Relief in All Cold Troubles and Congestion. Mothers Use it to Prevent Development of Children's Colds.

For several winters a large number of people, especially mothers of small children, have prevented the serious effects from neglected colds by using Turpo—the new Turpentine Ointment which, applied externally, drives a cold away overnight, relieves congestion of all kinds, and has valuable antiseptic properties.

There is nothing mysterious or secret about Turpo—it is a scientific combination of distilled Turpentine, Camphor and Menthol, in a salve or ointment which, being readily absorbed through the skin, carries the recognized and beneficial effects of these medicines to the root of the trouble. Turpo, applied up the nostrils at the first sign of a cold, relieves congestion and headache, clears the air passages, checking the cold at the very root, and prevents its developing into more serious trouble.

Pneumonia and influenza may develop from a neglected cold—especially in children, and careful mothers are now using Turpo as a standard household application, to be used at the first sign of "sniffles" in the child. For severe colds, Turpo rubbed on the throat and chest gets under the skin, clearing up the congestion, without blistering the skin or staining the clothing.

Turpo is also of value to give relief in catarrh, hacking cough, sore throat, and as an antiseptic application for cuts, wounds and burns. Ask your doctor or druggist about Turpo—they will confirm that it is a good, honest remedy.

Sold in white opal jars, with the orange and black label, 30c and 60c. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you are not entirely satisfied.

BE AT PEACE

ACQUAINT now thyself with God and be at peace; thereby good shall come unto thee.—Job 12: 24.

Surplus and Want

IT is a pitiable thing to know that in Europe and Asia millions upon millions are starving, while there is no market for bounteous crops in this and other lands. It is a sad thing that nations which in military alliance performed the tremendous tasks of the war, can not make distribution of the world's ample supplies between those who have surplus and those who perish of want. Voluntary associations labor, individuals work and give, in comparatively puny efforts to perform a task of world proportions. The world does not do its own work because it is not fully organized for the task. The matter of famine over large portions of the earth is plainly a business for international organization, a task that the league of nations might have successfully undertaken had it included the richest, most powerful and most idealistic nation, and the one whose western initiative and resourcefulness was necessary to get the thing started. Unless this great work of Christianity is done, civilization will pay a heavy price for its laches, if indeed it does not collapse.

The Legislature

THERE are forty-four farmers and seventeen lawyers in the new legislature. Probably there are no more lawyers than there should be, as their especial knowledge and experience of law is valuable in drafting and analyzing measures. Certainly the old protest against the "lawyer legislature" will not lie against this one. The farmer representation is not out of proportion, and is big enough to care pretty fully for rural interests. In view of their strength farmer members will be wise if they prove scrupulous in their consideration of the welfare of lesser groups represented by ones and twos. After all it is not the special welfare of any group or groups, not the prosperity of this or that occupation that is important, but the common welfare of the people of Wisconsin. Measures should be drawn and adopted with this broad truth about democracy in mind.

A Double Purpose

THE existence of want in Poland and nearby countries that are inclined to oppose bolshevist expansion is pointed to as an additional source of danger to existing institutions. When men are hungry, it is natural that their resentment should turn readily to sources of present authority, as to that which should have saved them, and failed. They do not know the want across the red border, they know only the want at home. They are apt to welcome any change. In helping the suffering people of Europe civilization is not only justifying itself on the side of humanity, but it fortifying itself against a dangerous enemy. But it has need to hurry.

"Thrift Week"

THIS is "Thrift Week." It is the active campaign in an organized effort to impress upon the public the nature and value of thrift. Many think of thrift in connection with penury. Nothing of the sort. Broadly, thrift is wisdom on money matters. It conveys the proper employment as well as husbanding of one's resources. It means spending as well as saving—wise spending and wise saving. Thrift is a fundamental of human welfare. A few lucky people may become or remain well off without thrift, but the average individual becomes or remains well off because of thrift. Thrift Week will serve a good cause if it is properly understood, for it will promote human independence and prudent, happy living.

Our Many Quarrels

THE position of the United States that a mandate in any given territory conveys to the holding nation no right to exploit the territory held, notice of which was served on France and England in relation to near-eastern situations, becomes applicable to the claim of Japan to full authority over the cables center on the Island of Yap, over which Japan has assumed authority by virtue of the inter-allied division of German colonies. Our idea seems to be to promote peace by staying out of European counsels and fighting the world single-handed. For an individual with a diamond on a fat finger and a fatter wallet protruding from his vest, Uncle Sam seems to be taking in a lot of territory. It is already in evidence that the war has promoted individual highway robbery upon an unprecedented scale, hunger and thirst contributing. Hungry nations, also, may be ready to resort to the stuffed club. Sooner or later some ambitious combination of mercenary powers may sap Yankee Doodle on the bean.

Civilization

RECENTLY an old man at Ashland killed himself and his dog because he was not permitted to take his old friend with him to the poor house to which he had been committed. We take pride in our civilization, but it is far from perfect. There was a time when crowds in the street jeered at the sight of an invalid. Today we at least sympathize. This generation can remember the old "pest house" in which people stricken with contagious disease were placed to shift for themselves. The modern isolation hospital is a cleaner and a braver institution. But most of the modern poor farms are relics of barbarism, and the rules which govern them are about as humane as an iron heel. After all, the old man at Ashland may find the potter's field more hospitable, and perhaps flowers will blossom where the old dog lies.

The large old fashioned safe, which for years occupied a prominent position in the police court room in the city hall, is to be sawed open. For years it has been locked with a large padlock, the key to which has been lost and today Mayor Sorensen announced that the lock would be sawed off in order that the safe might be used by the new health department. Former police justices say the safe has been locked as long as they can remember and it will be interesting to learn what it contains.

Extensive improvements are being planned by the La Crosse Odd Fellows' Hall association in the large three-story building on South Fourth street. Plans have been drawn for floors which will involve an expenditure of between $2,000 and $3,000. At present the lodge room on the third floor is cut up into numerous small rooms but it is proposed to convert it into one large lodge room, which can also be used as a dance floor.

A STORY OF THREE

Martha McCullough-Williams

Alfaretta sat swinging and singing at the top of her young voice:

"I wish I had er ginger cake, I wish I had er dime;
I wish I had er new fi' cents ter give dat gal er mine."

"Why so slufully lavish, Fretty?" Benton called to her from the blanket he lounged on twenty yards away. "Why not offer something possible to mere men and mortals? A red apple, for instance. I might be equal to that."

"Sure enough, Smarty?" Fretty asked, making a face at him. "I have my doubts. But lemme tell you this—you've got legs—if you don't like my singin', why—you get up and dust away. I have to sing when I feel like it."

"So I hear, painfully," Benton flung back mournfully.

Fretty made a worse face. "Remember I was weaned on 'The Blue Juanita,'" she said. My mammy named me for it—she loved the song so well."

"I see, Alfaretta—Juny-etta. Shades of Spanish Wah-neeta!" Benton apostrophized, dropping his book.

Fretty stopped the swing, saying, severely: "Wahneeta is another song. Juny-etta goes like this:

"'Fleet-ing years have born away
The voice of Alfaretta—
Still sweeps the river on, Blue Jun-y-etta!
Still sweeps the river on, Blue Jun-y-etta!'"

"I'd like to know how you'd make Wah-neeta rhyme?"

"I wouldn't make it," Benton answered humbly, but with a twinkle. Fretty began swinging afresh. She was light, lithe, a seventeen-year-old tomboy, filled with the "beauty of the devil" found only at such age. Benton, her father's chum, found her vastly diverting. He was at Tip Top for the hot weather, and glad of anything that made his exile more bearable.

"You thought I was dad's little girl, wearing a finger in her mouth and expecting to be kissed when her face and her frock were clean," Fretty burst out from the height of a wide sweep. "But—I've forgiven you for disappointing me so—being a Christian-minded person." Benton countered. Thereat Fretty giggled. "Want me to tell you something?" she asked. "I will—whether or no. I bet Babe Acklen a pig against a puppy, before I ever saw you, that you'd fall dead in love with me—in about three days."

"Creditable to your penetration. How come you so wise?" Benton asked. Fretty gigled again, saying: "Oh, I'm used to settin' old men off their heads. The preachers, and even the presiding elder, always wanted me to sit on their laps—with good chairs doing nothing at all. And Doc Barkley tries to kiss me every birthday—and him smoking worse than any chimney——"

"Who won the bet?" Benton interrupted. Fretty stopped the swing dead. "We—have to ask you that," she said, flushing the least bit. "Babe says the puppy's mine—wants to bring it right over to me—but I say not—though I ain't quite ready to let him have the pig"—casting down eyelids that showed dark-fringed lashes against the soft color of her cheeks.

"Let me see. Pretty much of a draw, I think," Benton said, musingly. "I hate to say it, but you lose, it anybody does, but being too young. If we had met earlier, say when you were ten or thereabout, I never could have resisted you."

"Yes, you could. I was uglier then than home-made sin—all snaggly-toothed and freckled as a turkey egg and right down stringing in arms and I—well, everywhere, because I ran and played so hard. There's a lot in feeding yourself, let me tell you. I found that out when I swapped green apples and candy for meat and bread and things."

"I have been mercifully spared, that is plain. But tell me how did Babe live through the snaggly-tooth and green-apple epoch?" Benton asked with an air of keen detachment. Fretty shook her fist at him, crying: "Babe! Lawsy me! Why! he's case-hardened—was that sore his own self—I do reckon we were the toughest lookin', raggedest pair of colts that ever romped in any pasture. We both had whooping cough and measles in the same week—after that everybody said we were bound to die—or grow up so spindlin' it would be a pity we hadn't, so they let us run wild—dad and Squire Acklen—"

"Wise gentlemen." Benton interrupted. "Now if you had been mine—I should have sentenced you to die of education."

"Our educations acquired us—such as they are," Fretty explained. "And I think they're good enough. We know how to talk if we can't parse anything—and how to behave real nice if there's need of it. Isn't that better than having a headful capitals and things? Counting I love—it somehow goes with money. Babe is an awful dub at 'rithmetic—but my! you ought to see him shoot the spots out of the nine of hearts."

"You can do it?" Benton asserted rather than asked. Fretty nodded.

"I always tie him at any sort of mark," she said. "But not when we're hunting birds or squirrels or rabbits. I always shut my eyes as I pull the trigger."

"I see! You have mercy on live targets of sorts," Benton said reflectively. "But—how about men?"

Fretty laughed a laugh of sparkling malice, saying: "O! I let them take what's coming to them—if they haven't got gumption enough to step out of range."

"Hm! Anything personal in that?" Benton asked. Instantly Fretty was all wide-eyed innocence. "How could there be?" she asked. "You're same as vaccinated—dad's best friend."

"But—that doesn't make me immune," Benton answered, his voice suddenly strained. He got up jerkily, stretched, ran back of Fretty and sent the swing sailing the full length of its ropes. It was a foolish experiment—he wanted to startle her from her supreme poise. Also hazardous—ropes, like affections, wear through under too great tension. To his horror, he heard a low cracking sound—saw one big strand of the huge hempen cable give, part, and suddenly unwind. The motion was still outward—where it checked for the downsweep there would be further breaking.

Even if the whole cable did not part a deep list sidewise would mean a fall, a deadly fall, for this girl child whom he knew suddenly held his heart in her two hands. Dully he spied the blanket—spied also a tall youth running on winged feet. Babe Acklen tore across the lawn, trying to shout, but barely whispering Fretty's name. His marksman's eye had told him her danger—the swing was already out of true—which could mean but one thing.

Benton had already seized the blanket—but he would never have known where to hold it effectually. Babe moved instinctively to the right spot, glancing now and then at the figure in the air. Fretty sensed the danger—with both dimpled hands she clung to the sound side of the cable. But the power of weight and mass tore loose her grip—she catapulted forward! downward—to certain death, it seemed. But earth was not to slay her. Babe and Benton held the blanket taut, but it was Babe who cased it at the exact instant to save Fretty from a dangerous rebound. Her face was white, but she laughed as she set foot on earth. Benton felt like a murderer—he could not meet her eyes. But Babe after one look walked precipitately away, saying over his shoulder: "Two's company, three a crowd."

"You can never forgive me," Benton began. "Never," Fretty echoed. "So I'll have to even things by aggravating you all the rest of your life! What d'ye say to it?" "Yes—and thank you!" Benton returned meekly.

U. S. YEGGS IN PARIS

Yanks Must Show Passports or Return Home

PARIS.—Paris is ridden with American bandits and the French police may appeal to the American state department for aid in chasing them back home.

If the state department were to ask the Paris police to make every American in the city show his passport, the crooks could be separated from the respectable Americans.

Most of the American crooks in Paris are deserters from the army or common seamen who left their ships at French ports and avoided regulations.

"Hard-boiled" Americans are blamed for auto thefts, auto banditry and bold apartment house burglaries. It is estimated that 400 of them are in Paris.

When they are not "on the job" they are in the gay cafes in the bright light section of the city, spending money like gentlemen of leisure.

THE "PRINCE"

Mr. Jackson Wasn't Heir to a Throne, But He Was a "Prince"

"Fight! Fight! Hey, guys here's a scrap!"

Quickly and almost as if by magic there gathered about at one end of the main first-floor corridor of Victor High School, from where the above announcement of a battle royal had come, a number of boisterous pushing students—"scrap fans," they called themselves.

"Who's scrapping" asked one of the late comers, crowded out of a position near the fighters by those who had arrived on the scene a little in advance.

"Slim Perkins and Sam Stevens," shortly answered one of the watchers.

"What's it about?" further inquired the late-comer.

"Don't know for sure. Better ask some other guy."

The question was put again, this time to another "fan," and in reply the late arrival was told that "maybe Sam Stevens did something Slim Perkins didn't like and they was havin' it hot an' heavy."

This statement was not entirely correct. It is true they were having it hot and heavy, but something else was the cause of the fight.

Slim Perkins, one of the combatants, was the typical story-book school bully at Victor High. He was of that over-bearing, bossy sort that we hate at first sight. He was a Junior.

Sam Stevens was but a mere Sophomore. He was not famed at Victor High for anything, except, perhaps, for a little work on the school track team. But, unlike Slim Perkins, he was well-liked.

Just a few minutes before the crowd of students had gathered in the corridor to see the fight, Sam had been walking peacefully down the stairs leading into the main corridor of the first floor. Following stealthily in back of him was Slim Perkins. About half way down the stairs, Slim, up to more of his dastardly, bullying practical jokes, stuck out his foot and tripped Sam, who fell headlong down the remaining steps and landed with a thump.

Then the fight had started.

GIRL OF 15 WINS BIG STATE SPELLING BEE

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Velma Rhodes, a pretty golden haired girl of 15, from Benton, Ill., won the recent annual spelling contest held in connection with the Illinois state teachers' convention.

Dallas Hill, of Bement, Ill., was her last rival. He tripped up on "tomahawk," and had to content himself with a silver medal to Velma's gold one.

Grace Farlow, Mount Vernon, Ill., got third in the all day contest, and was awarded a bronze medal.

Forty-three students from various parts of the State took part.

INDOOR MAGIC

Get a piece of paper about six inches square. Also a fifty cent piece.

Place the coin in the center of the paper. Fold over one side of the paper so that it covers the coin. Then fold the other side. Then the third. After each fold allow some one to feel of the paper to see that the coin is still there.

On folding over the fourth side the paper is tilted slightly, and instead of the coin remaining in the center of the sheet it slides toward the edge of the paper. When the paper is folded over the fifty cent piece is not securely in the pocket formed by the folding of the four sides, but in the three-sided pocket of the fourth end.

It is then allowed to secretly slip from out of the paper into the palm of the hand, where, by stiffening the muscles of the palm, it is held out of sight. The paper may be opened and the coin will have disappeared. If you wish it can be found in the pocket of some one watching.

GIRLHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS WOMEN

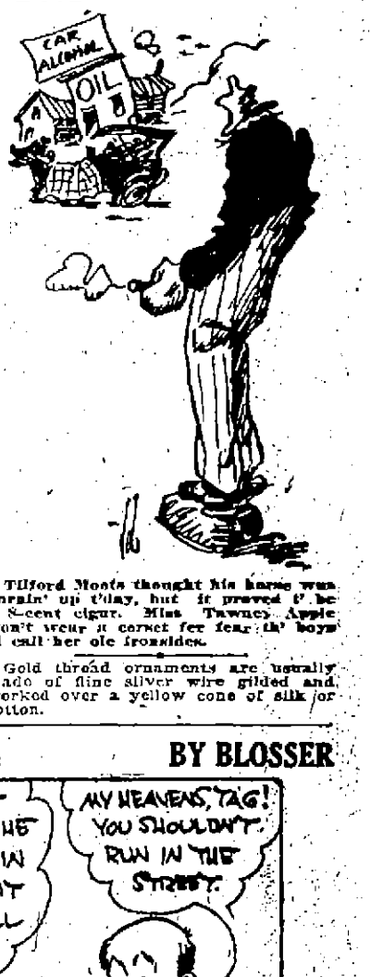

Elizabeth Vane

Five hundred Indians were attacking Fort Henry, which was filled with women and children, and there were only twelve men to defend it.

Every shot hit its mark but the ammunition was giving out. "If only we had that powder from the powder-house," groaned the captain.

"I'll get it," and before anyone could stop her, out dashed Elizabeth Vane. The Indians were so surprised at the sight of her that they stopped firing. It was not until she was running back to the fort with the precious box in her hand that they realized what she was doing. Then they fired but it was too late, she was in the fort!

Through the bravery of this little girl, the men were able to hold out until a relief party reached them.

FRECKLES — THAT'S WHAT BOTHERS TAG — BY BLOSSER

The Screen

AT THE RIVIERA

It was necessary to blow the safe in a station agent's office in a scene of "Sand!" William S. Hart's newest production for Paramount Artcraft, which comes to the Riviera Theater tonight and the property men and others were in a fever of anxiety lest the charge of powder placed in the strong box might not be powerful enough to make an effective explosion.

But their worry was for naught.

When the fuse reached the powder there was a terrific explosion and the safe door went through the set carrying some of the walls with it. But no one was hurt, the effect was just what was desired and so everybody was happy.

"Sand!" contains all the elements of a stirring western drama of the desert country. But the title also implies the quality in a man's makeup which is variously termed "sand" or "grit."

Mr. Hart has, it is declared one of his best roles as Dan Kurrie, ex-cowhand and now station agent, who returns to the saddle and not only redeems himself but wins his sweetheart and outwits the villain.

AT THE RIVOLI

If Wallace Reid ever has appeared to better advantage in a photoplay than he did in "Always Audacious" at the Rivoli Theater yesterday, his admirers in La Crosse have failed to observe it. At least, that was the opinion expressed by film fans after the opening showing and their opinion is worth something.

In this picture Mr. Reid plays two parts, one, a society man of wealth and the other a crook. Both men are alike as two peas and this resemblance aids the scheme of the crook to assume the station of the other—to rob him of his wealth and finances. He nearly succeeds in his purpose and but for a—but it would be unfair to readers to reveal in advance one of the most smashing climaxes ever seen in a motion picture story.

Of course, Mr. Reid plays the roles of the crook and his intended victim. How he does it, the skill of the cameraman reveals in many thrilling scenes.

BIJOU THEATER

"Dead Men Tell No Tales," a story of crime, love and adventure by E. W. Hornung, has been made into a Tom Terriss production by Vitagraph. The motion picture version was edited by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester. It deals with a plot to steal chests of Australian gold from the Lady Jermyn, a passenger-ship bound for England. To cover up their crime, the plotters set fire to the vessel, intending to cause the death of all the passengers and crew on the principle that "dead men tell no tales."

The spectacular production will be shown at the Bijou Tuesday and Wednesday.

The gold miners in the Australian fields toiled and fought in frenzied excitement for the precious metal. Senor Joaquin Santos, a Spanish adventurer, plotted coldly and deliberately to steal the treasure while on its way to England.

John Rattray was a young man of engaging personality and some fine qualities, though his conscience had been somewhat dulled by his misfortunes. By inheritance he had come into possession of a large estate, Rattray Hall, but with no money to keep it up. This situation made him eager to win a large amount of money quickly. Another reason for wanting money was young Rattray's love for the beautiful stepdaughter of Senor Santos.

From first to last the spectacular motion picture drama is replete with thrills. The scenes on the burning ship, and at sea, with the blazing vessel in the distance, as the lifeboats are sinking, are strikingly impressive.

AT THE STRAND TONIGHT

Elaborate settings of all sorts have been constructed at Universal City in the past, but one of the most picturesque settings yet built is the South American village reproduced for Jacques Jaccard's original story, "Honor Bound," starring Frank Mayo.

Many scenes of the story are laid in the Amazonian rubber country, on the edge of the jungle. Jaccard, who not only wrote and directed the feature, has been a world traveler and explorer, and spent a year in the sparsely settled Brazilian country.

The site chosen for the set was the dry river bottom in the back ranch at Universal City. Most of the houses in the village are of the thatched hut variety, many are built of palm leaves and here and there a wooden structure. There is a tile roofed general store in the foreground, and to the rear may be seen the corrugated iron storehouse of the big rubber company.

AT THE MAJESTIC

She is universally known as the most beautiful girl in America. Artists and sculptors have begged her to sit for them, poets have used her as their inspiration and men have seen and adored her. Her hair is like spun gold, her eyes like the dazzling blue waters of a lake with the sun shining on it and her cheeks like the priceless pale rose corals. Her beauty awes one. She wears magnificent clothes and jewels; she has everything money can buy. She is lovely beyond words and still she is a thief. But, she's not an ordinary thief. You wouldn't expect so extraordinarily beautiful a woman to do anything in an ordinary way. She is the cleverest smuggler of stolen goods in the world.

In "Blackbirds," one of the most exciting "crook" plays of recent years Miss Justine Johnstone makes her debut in this city today at the Majestic Theater.

Other features on the program are two vaudeville numbers. Dixon and Schroeder are two clever chaps with nimble feet who present various dances in a splendid manner.

Dorman and De Glenn appear in a routine of comedy talking, singing and costume changes. A Pollard comedy and Fox News complete the program.

More than half the skilled diamond cutters of Belgium are out of work, due to a decrease in the demand for cut stones.

Plenty Of Eggs
when using one of our
NON-FREEZING DRINKING FOUNTAINS
To get eggs it is necessary for the fowls to have clean water (not frozen or icy) before them at all times.
An egg contains 65% water, so you can readily see the necessity of the water.
A REAL DRINKING FOUNTAIN
Don't burn your coop or suffocate your flock with lamps or stove. Clean water increases egg production.
Why not get one of these Non-Freezing Fountains and get that extra increase of eggs?
In order to appreciate the merits of this fountain you will have to see its construction, therefore kindly inspect it at our store.
A good laying tonic will also help to stimulate egg production.
We highly recommend Don Sung, Pratts', Heas and Conkey's Laying Tonic. Put up in packages from 30c to $3.00.
Sick hens will not lay their best. Look out for colds and roup which quickly spread throughout the entire flock and often times completely wipe them out.
We advise as a preventative to be given twice a week Hoeschler's Poultry Germicide. This can also be given in light stages of Roup and Colds.
For obstinate cases and where the eyes and head are swollen get Hoeschler's Roup Powder as this is much stronger preparation.
How about some Nest Eggs, Louse Powder, Liquid Mite Destroyer and Leg Bands?
Band the birds now as this summer you will not be able to tell your pullets from your old hens. Let us talk over your Poultry and Stock troubles.

MRS. C. H. M'CORMICK DIES MONDAY AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, wife of the chairman of the board of directors of the International Harvester company, died Monday after a brief illness.

Complications believed to have ensued from an operation several years ago for gall stones caused her removal to a hospital early in the year but her condition had been favorable until Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were married March 5, 1889. She was born in England but was brought to Chicago at an early age. One of the most notable of the many benefactions in which Mrs. McCormick was active was the establishment of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Endowment fund to improve conditions of child life in the United States. More than 1,000 communities are said to have been founded.

Mr. McCormick and sons, Cyrus and Gordon, survive.

FARMER CAUGHT IN A CORN SHREDDER; SAVES LIFE

ROCKFORD, Ia—By great presence of mind, Samuel Roberts, a young farmer near here saved his life when part of his jacket became entangled in the fly-wheel of a corn-shelling machine. As the jacket caught, Roberts was hurled to the ground as in falling. He grasped one of the truck-wheels to which he clung until his clothes were torn from his shoulder, together with part of the flesh. Besides bad bruises and a severe wrenching, he was uninjured.

RUSHFORD SHIPS 177 CARS OF STOCK; 44 OVER 1920

RUSHFORD, Minn—The past year, the Rushford Shipping Association has shipped out one hundred and seventy-seven cars of stock, which is forty-four more than last year's shipments. Members of the Association were paid this year $432,000 besides the manager's salary and other expenses. The present officers are: president, Henry Tenborg; vice-president, Adolph Feine; secretary, Gerhard Eyholt; treasurer J. G. Robertson; directors, Herman Eggert, Otto Hendrickson. Revisors: Andrew Brandt, E. R. Benson, B. M. Westby.

LATINS OPPOSED TO GOMPERS' ELECTION AS FEDERATION HEAD

MEXICO CITY.—By The Associated Press.—Opposition to Samuel Gompers' election to the presidency of the Pan-American Federation of Labor developed here Monday at the annual congress of the organization.

There were rumors that Spanish speaking delegates might attempt to wrest the presidency from Mr. Gompers. Canvass of several delegations showed, however, that Mr. Gompers would be returned to office.

ALICE LAKE HERE IN "SHORE ACRES"

"Shore Acres," the immortal stage play of New England life that made James A. Herne famous the world over, will be the feature attraction at the Casino theater, beginning today. This unusual feature is picturization of the celebrated stage drama which James A. Herne wrote, produced, and starred in throughout the civilized world. It is a superb picture of rural life in a sleepy New England village on the coast of Maine, and introduces Alice Lake as a star in her first starring vehicle. The management assures its patrons of unusual entertainment in this extraordinary feature which is a faithful picture of New England seacoast life, tense with stirring drama and tender pathos.

Alice Lake makes her first appearance as a star in "Shore Acres" after her memorable performance in "Should a Woman Tell?" the Metro production that has created the screen sensation of modern times. In support of Miss Lake are Edward Connelly, Joseph Kilgour, Robert Walker, Frank Brownlee, and others.

GIRL FALLS ON KNIFE

DECORAH, Ia.—Friends of the Dray family residing near the Marshaltown, received word recently that Miss Marie Dray, twenty-three years old in going down cellar with a long butcher knife, caught the high heel of one shoe on the cellar steps and was hurled to the bottom of the stairs, falling on the end of the knife which was plunged into the abdomen. It believed by physicians that the injury will not prove fatal, as the knife did not enter any of the vital organs but cut in a glancing manner.

'TWAS GOOD PICK

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 15, 1921.

Editor La Crosse Tribune,

La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sir: Your politeness reporter is certainly a good picker for when he picked Mrs. Elliott of the American House for the prize politeness lady, he did a good job. I have been there many times and never failed to be treated with the utmost civility and courtesy and not only that but Mrs. Elliott does not even know me so far as I know. Some lady, believe me. Yours truly,

N. C. BACHELLER.

MISS GUNTHER IS LEADING IN CONTEST FOR CARNIVAL QUEEN

Only Few Votes Separate Misses Gunther, Leibel and Trane, the Three Leaders

The various managers of the candidates for Queen of the La Crosse County Winter Carnival have reported in as follows for those in whose interest they are working:

Miss Gunther	15,325
Miss Leibel	14,750
Miss Trane	12,900
Miss Nipper	5,650
Miss Miller	2,800

The committee has been asked what procedure will be followed in the final canvass of the votes and have concluded to adopt the following rules:

Votes by mail postmarked prior to midnight Friday, January 21, 1920, will be counted. They should be sent to the Queen Contest Committee, Chamber of Commerce only. All ballot boxes will be brought in for final canvass on Friday afternoon and their contests counted and listed.

Last Vote News Friday

Announcement of the vote of each candidate as reported by managers, as found in boxes and including free votes originally donated, will be made in the Friday evening Tribune.

No further announcement of the vote will be made until counted by the committee and assistants after midnight on Friday.

The lobby of the Chamber of Commerce will be the only place votes may be cast after 6 p. m. on Friday.

The race at present is very close among the three leading candidates, but the other two are to be heard from in no uncertain tones. It must be reasoned that if each pupil of the ... mal shows his or her loyalty to the ... ution by selling only one dol... worth of votes for Miss Nipper, ... jump her to nearly forty thou... votes. And Miss Miller as the ... te of the county has no com... n and the entire countryside ... k on; moreover she has many ... in the city and it was from a ... that she received her start ...

Of course, the ... race.

Grammar Girls Sell Buttons on Streets

Scores last Saturday as many as fifty young ladies were on the streets selling buttons for Misses Leibel, Gunther and Nipper. They were enlisted by their various managers and quite a number were in carnival costume loaned by Doerflinger. Several volunteers were also out working for Miss Trane. All of the managers are wearing faces of owlish wisdom and it looks as if the contest would develop into a neck-and-neck affair at the finish.

MASS MEETING ON LABOR TEMPLE SITE IS SET FOR TONIGHT

A mass meeting, to which all union men in the city have been invited, will be held in Yeomen hall, beginning at 8 o'clock, to take final action on the proposal to buy Yeomen hall for a labor temple. Admission to the meeting will be by union card. The propositions of the joint building committee of the Building Trades' council and the Trades and Labor council, and E. W. Schulze, owner of the building, will be announced at the meeting.

COLLEGE TEAMS TO TEST CANADIAN AND AMERICAN FOOTBALL

BOSTON, Mass.—A test of Canadian and American football by representative college teams may be had next fall, as a result of negotiations between McGill university of Montreal and Boston college. The McGill authorities have invited the Boston eleven to go north for a game next fall and the matter is under consideration. The Canadians play twelve men to a team, but with the exception of the forward pass follow closely the American game of football.

an automobile from Milwaukee to Hurley with Peter Verich, will be held tomorrow. Jackson pleaded not guilty and the court appointed G. H. Gordon to defend him when he represented he had no money.

Witness is Missing

When United States District Attorney A. C. Wolfe announced that marshals in Michigan had failed to find Frank Huss, a former prohibition agent, who is an important witness in four Hurley cases pending here, Judge Landis directed him to wire the government officials at Grand Rapids and get some action.

Joseph Carr, charged with possession and sale of whiskey in a soft drink parlor and hotel at Mercier, will be tried tomorrow.

The court room was crowded when Judge Landis convened court at 10 o'clock Monday morning, and every doorway was jammed with spectators.

Determination of Judge Landis to speed up the trial of 110 cases here was revealed when he took a hand at the examination of jurors called in the first case.

Gets Jury Quickly

After the usual general questions pertaining to the knowledge which jurymen might have of counsel or principals in the case, Judge Landis said: "Do any of you belong to any organization on either side of this wet or dry question or have you any prejudice on this question, one way or the other?" Receiving no replies in the affirmative, the court ended the examination of jurors and both sides accepted the panel. Drawing of the first jury was done in record time.

Nicholas Nedemowitch was on the witness stand when court adjourned at noon.

HERE TO ASK AID FOR ARMENIA

Lady Anne Azgapetian, wife of an Armenian general, has come to America with her little son, to appeal to the women of the nation for aid for her suffering country. She will plead the Armenian cause at the convention of the National Woman's party in February.

Obituary

MRS. AIKEN'S FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. F. H. Aiken will be held at the home, 109 South Ninth street, at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The services will be private for relatives and immediate friends.

MRS. ARTHUR GIBBONS

Mrs. Arthur Gibbons 40, 221½ Pearl street, died at a local hospital at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

WALTER E. OLSON

Walter Edward Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Olson, 1540 Liberty street, passed away early Sunday morning at his home after several days' illness with diphtheria. He was born in La Crosse October 15, 1912, and was a student at the Franklin school. Private funeral services were held this morning, January 17, at the grave at Oak Grove cemetery at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. T. Knudson officiated.

MR. MATHIAS NIEDBALSKI

Mr. Mathias Niedbalski, aged 82 years, died Sunday night at 12 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. G. A. Krueger, 821 Johnson street. The infirmities of old age was the cause of death. Mr. Niedbalski was born in Poland, January 14, 1838, and came to America forty-eight years ago, coming directly to La Crosse. He has made his home here since that time. His wife preceded him in death sixteen years ago. He is survived by three daughters and one son, Mrs. G. A. Krueger, Mrs. Michael Wateski, Mrs. Frank Farnam and Mr. J. C. Niedbalski, and eighteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, all living in La Crosse. He was a member of the Holy Cross society, the Polish Aid and the Chicago National Aid societies, and was the oldest member of the Holy Cross church, from which the funeral will take place on Wednesday at 9 o'clock. A short service will be held at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Krueger, 821 Johnson street, Rev. J. M. Korczyk officiating. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

M. HAUGE

M. Hauge, 66 years old, 1117 Avon street, died Sunday after an illness of seven months. He is survived by his wife and six children, Oscar, June and Mildred Hauge of this city, Carl M., town of Campbell; Josephine M. of New York, and Elmer Hauge of Everett, Wash. Hauge was a machinist for R. Ott & Son for nearly 30 years. Funeral announcement later.

CHRISTOPHER ANDERSON

Christopher Anderson, 1121 St. Paul street, died Saturday night at 10 o'clock after a short illness from a complication.

Mr. Anderson was 76 years old and was engaged in farming near West Salem until seven years ago, when he moved to La Crosse. Besides his widow he leaves one son, Christ Anderson of La Crosse.

Funeral services will be held at the home, 1121 St. Paul street, Tuesday afternoon, at 1:30. Rev. M. L. Hostager will officiate and interment will be made in Neshonoc cemetery near West Salem.

MRS. J. VOLLMAR

Louise Vollmar, wife of Matt J. Vollmar, a well known grocer of this city, was buried this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's Cathedral. Rev. Pape officiating.

The death of Mrs. Vollmar was a great surprise to her many friends. During her lifetime Mrs. Vollmar had, through her kindness and lovable disposition to all, made a vast number of invaluable friends, which was shown by the sympathy and many beautiful floral contributions.

THOMAS MELVIN

Thomas Melvin, aged 63, died Saturday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas W. Brophy, 1800 Madison street, of a complication of diseases. The body was sent to Ferryville Monday and funeral services will be held there on Tuesday. Mr. Melvin leaves his wife, five daughters and one son.

FEELING IS STRONG OVER MURDER OF AGED FARM COUPLE

KAUFMAN, Texas.—Feeling was intense Monday over the murder Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Willard, both aged 68, in their farm home near here.

Officers said they had no clue as to the identity of the assailant. The bodies were found in bed, the heads crushed with blows from an iron rod which was found in the house.

NORWEGIAN LABOR PARTY IS DIVIDED ON INTERNATIONALE

CHRISTIANA. — Norway's labor party has split on the proposal to adhere to the third internationale of Moscow. Two hundred delegates to the party's canvass have decided to oppose joining the internationale and will found a new party, to which most of the labor leaders in parliament will belong.

COURT AUTHORIZES SEIZURE OF AUTOS IN DRY ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON.—Seizure of automobiles or other conveyances in which liquors are transported illegally is authorized whether or not the owner of the conveyance has been found innocent of contravening the law, the supreme court held Monday in deciding a case from Georgia.

able before the teacher is 50 years old.

"Or, a teacher upon retiring from the service can withdraw every dollar which she has contributed to the fund with interest. The amount which the state has contributed will remain and the interest earnings if she is past 50 years will go to her annually as an annuity. This is only one of the several options which the teacher has upon retiring.

State Aid for Fund

"The suggested plan has many advantages over the present system. It will restore the present fund to a stable financial and sound undertaking. Teachers who do not continue to teach after they are 25 years of age are not affected and the long phalanx of teachers who never intend to remain in the service are not bothered by assessments. Both the state and the teacher contribute to an individual account kept by the state in the name of the teacher. As the service of the teacher continues the state's contribution increases until it is far greater than the teacher's annual contribution. Teachers may retire at any time and the amount of the annuity will be measured by the amount of the contributions made by the state and teacher to the fund, if the teacher is past 50. There is an incentive to remain in the service because the amount of the annual annuity increases every year. The longer the drawing of the annual annuity is deferred, the larger will be the annuity payable. Should the teacher die before having withdrawn, the total accumulations derived from the contributions of herself and state will be paid to her heirs or as her will directs.

"The plan is simple. It is based upon reward of service. The contributions to be made by the state and teacher are sufficient to make the fund stable. Every teacher now in the fund will receive as much as the present law has promised and probably more. Both the interests of the teacher and state are safeguarded, with the fundamental idea back of the plan that the teacher may follow her profession even at a low salary and be assured of a sufficient annuity to comfort her in old age, when the time of her teaching service is ended."

PRESIDENT NAMES REPRESENTATIVE ON LEAGUE COMMITTEE

Department of Labor Man to Sit on Immigration Commission

WASHINGTON—Roland B. Mahany, solicitor of the department of labor, has been appointed by President Wilson as American representative on the international commission of immigration and emigration to meet at Geneva, Switzerland, on a date to be fixed by the international labor office of the league of nations.

This is the first appointement the president has made to any of the bodies meeting under the league of nations since the senate finally refused to ratify the Versailles treaty.

Eighteen nations will take part in the conference, the first of its kind ever to be held. Six will send delegates representing labor; six representing capital and six representing their governments. It was the original intention of the international labor office to have the United States represented by labor delegates because it had failed to ratify the league of nations, but the American Federation of Labor considered it indivisable that the United States be represented by any other than governmental delegates.

Mr. Mahany, who formerly was minister to Ecuador was for four years a member of the immigration committee in congress, and for some time has been in complete charge of the immigration work of the department of labor. He expects to sail for Europe soon.

LONGEST BILL ON RECORD

Congressman E. C. Little gets the non-skid banana peel. He has just introduced the longest bill on record—1257 pages. Parchment is scarce and since it would have required 30,000 sheets of parchment to enroll the bill, it was ordered enrolled in its original form. It proposes "to consolidate, codify, revise and re-enact" the federal laws in force March 4, 1919.

SIXTY ON TRIAL AT MILWAUKEE ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Indicted Saloon Men, Liquor Dealers and Businessmen Face Federal Judge

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The trials of sixty saloonkeepers, liquor dealers, and business men, indicted by the recent federal grand jury started Monday before Federal Judge F. A. Geiger.

William McGinnis of Green Bay, Brown county, Wis., the first to be tried of eighty-seven gallons of whisky and purchase of more than 1,000 gallons, pleaded guilty.

Joseph Martin of Green Bay, attorney, said that all of the Brown county saloonkeepers will plead guilty.

McGinnis was sentenced to five and one-half months in the house of correction and fined $2,500 by Judge Geiger.

Judge Geiger over-ruled a contention by Mr. Martin that the language of the Volstead act was such that Mr. McGinnis could not be imprisoned, it being his first offense.

RAILWAY SERVICE INTERRUPTED IN LA CROSSE TODAY

Street car service in the city was interrupted for an hour and ten minutes at the noon hour on Monday due to repairs which were to be made on the high wire running into La Crosse. The Edison plant carried the current for a short time while repairs were being made but dropped off for reasons not yet known at the local office.

BREAK LOOMS AMONG ITALIAN SOCIALISTS

LEGHORN, Italy.—Prospects of a break between the communist and moderate elements of the Italian socialist party appear to be taking more definite form when the organization's conference met again Monday.

There were several encounters Sunday between opposing delegations and resulting remarks and jeers were exchanged.

CATHOLIC PARISHES ENTHUSIASTIC OVER FUND DRIVE PLANS

More than 300 Representatives from Four Counties Attend Meeting Here Sunday

More than 300 representatives of Catholic parishes in the La Crosse diocese, comprising La Crosse, Monroe, Vernon and Crawford counties, met Sunday afternoon in the Knights of Columbus clubhouse and talked over plans for the $5,000,000 fund drive which will be made in February.

According to A. H. Schubert, chairman of the La Crosse diocese committee, the representatives showed considerable enthusiasm and were eager to take up the task of raising the money which will be used to aid charitable and educational institutions in Wisconsin and to build a home for aged Catholics in La Crosse. Talks were made by the Rev. Joseph Riesterer of Holy Trinity church, and the Rev. P. Pape of the St. Joseph's Cathedral, Joseph Boschert, Dr. Edward Evans and Ben Franeke of La Crosse; A. O. Heileman of Norwalk, and T. F. Donovan of Tomah.

A rousing speech was given by W. L. Rossiter, chairman of the La Crosse deanery committee, that stirred his audience to enthusiasm in the project. A committee was named to draw up resolutions extending greetings to Bishop Schwebach and pledging themselves to successfully complete the fund drive.

STEAMSHIP COMPANY CLOSES OUT BUSINESS

SHEBOYGAN, Wis.—The steamer Chipman, the last of the boats listed out of this port, has been sold to Canadian parties, Richardson and son, Ltd., of Kingston, Ont., Monday and will be taken to Canadian waters with the opening of navigation in the spring. The Sheboygan Steamship company goes out of existence and the partnership of Julius Kroos and N. A. Gunderson, dissolved. The boat was built in Milwaukee in 1883 by A. Chipman and brought to Sheboygan in 1893.

MILWAUKEE WOMAN MISSING FOR WEEK

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Mrs. Sadie A. Clearehand wife of John M. Clearehand, head of the Pere Marquette line of steamers here, has disappeared, it was reported Monday. The last word heard from Mrs. Clearehand was from Chicago January 8. Efforts to locate here in the east were being made, it was said.

HENRY BECKLUND HELD ON CHARGE OF PETTY LARCENY

Connected With Theft of Articles Found in Second Hand Store Here, Charged

Henry Becklund, giving his home as Lakefield Minnesota, was arrested by Officer Arneson of the local police department on the charge of petty larceny on several complaints brought into the station.

Becklund, according to the reports from the police station, has been identified as being connected with several thefts in the community. A harness stolen from the poor farm was found and identified at one of the second hand stores in the city, as well as were a pair of shoes, coat and a cap. In addition a bicycle was stolen which later proved to be the work of the man now being held in custody at central station. Most all of the stolen goods have been recovered.

The police report that Sunday, a farmer, living in the neighborhood of the poor farm reported the loss of a fur lined coat, which was found to be the one worn by Becklund at the time of his arrest. It was said at the police station that Becklund would be arraigned before Judge Brindley some time Monday.

NOBODY APPEARS IN ROSE ASSAULT CASE WHEN CALLED TODAY

The assault case of George Rose against Russ Rippe and Will Schrader, which was to have been called in county court this morning did not materialize. Neither Rose nor either of the defendants appeared, Judge Brandley said. The case was to have been a jury trial. No jury was counted off because the parties concerned did not show up. The charges are an outgrowth of an encounter New Years eve between Rose and Rippe and Schrader.

BANDITS HOLD UP OSHKOSH SHOE STORE

OSHKOSH, Wis. —A bold holdup took place shortly before ten o'clock Saturday night at the shoe store of Rothenbach Brothers, on the South side, when three men, armed with revolvers, took all the cash in sight, about $119, and got away in a closed automobile. They left behind checks totaling about $231. The raid was just at closing time. Frank J. Rothenbach, one of the proprietors, was about to make up the cash, when the three bandits entered.

28 IDLE HENS NOW LAY 27 EGGS A DAY

And This Was in Cold Winter Weather. Plan is Simple.

"I fed Don Sung to my 28 hens that were not laying. But they are laying now. I receive as high as 27 eggs a day and never less than 22."—Mrs. Jennie Davidson, Yates Center, Kan.

Mrs. Davidson wrote this letter in February. Figure her profit on two dozen eggs a day from hens that "wouldn't lay." We'll make you the same offer we made her. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.04 (includes war tax) for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

BUTTER ASSOCIATION OF TOMAH REPORTS BIG BUSINESS YEAR

A. A. Fix Re-elected President of Chamber of Commerce; Country Club Gets Cup

TOMAH, Wis.—The annual report of the Farmers' Co-operative Butter association of Tomah shows that the creamery did the biggest business during the year 1920, of any year in its history. Total receipts are $400,270.01. The number of pounds of cream received were 2,307,319 and the number of pounds of butter made were 681,514.

A. A. Fix has been re-elected president of this city's Chamber of Commerce; Henry Thom, vice president; Kyle Sowle, treasurer; T. P. Donovan, secretary, and L. J. Kasper, director for three years. A labor bureau has been established for the first time in Tomah by the secretary of the organization. The secretary is making every effort to secure better train service for Tomah, requesting in the name of the Chamber of Commerce that three trains make stops at this station, as they used to do.

Country Club Gets Cup

The Country club of this city is indebted to the American Telegraph and Telephone company for a handsome trophy in the form of a silver cup. Various officials of the company have been guests of local employes and were on these occasions so pleased with the club and golf links, that their presentation of the trophy was made as an expression of "good will."

The Lutheran parochial school of this city is closed indefinitely, because of a scarlet fever quarantine at the home of the principal, Charles Keipie.

The marriage of Miss Fay Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry of Tomah, and Mr. James Thompson of Beloit, Wis., which occurred on January 4, at Rockford, Ill., has just been announced. The bridegroom is a world war veteran, and served as cook for Company 7, 121st Machine Gun battalion, during its entire service at Waco, Texas, and in Europe.

Child's Eye Blown Out

The throwing of a small percussion cap into a stove at the home of Otto Soltz of Tomah, resulted in the loss of an eye to Eunice, a six-year-old daughter. When the cap exploded, parts of it were driven into the left eye of the child and were embedded in the eyeball, and she was taken to La Crosse where the eye was removed.

The local high school's basketball schedule includes games with the following high schools: La Crosse, Jan. 21; Gratiot, Feb. 5; Chippewa Falls, Feb. 11; Viroqua, Feb. 25, and Eau Claire, March 4. Coach Valaska is a former star of Stout institute, Menomonie, Wis.

ADJOURN TUESDAY'S SESSION IN RESPECT TO DEAD LEGISLATOR

Assembly to Hold But Short Session to Honor Memory of Green Lake Member

MADISON, Wis.—Owing to the death of Assemblyman Samuel Owens of Green Lake county, the assembly will hold but a perfunctory session Tuesday afternoon, and is expected to adjourn out of honor to the deceased member. His desk in the legislature has been draped in crepe and a large bouquet of roses has been placed upon it by his fellow members.

Mr. Owens was a member of the 1919 session and a committee will be appointed by Speaker Young on Monday to go to Green Lake to attend the services at Markeson Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Owens was born in Cambria, Columbia county, on April 23, 1856, and was educated in the Cambria district school. He commenced life as a carpenter, but about thirty-five years ago became interested in politics and was elected register of deeds.

He served in this capacity from 1894 to 1902 and in 1914 was elected county clerk by the county board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the incumbent. He was elected to the assembly in 1918 and re-elected last fall.

Before the end of the week, Gov. Blaine is expected to call a special election in Green Lake county to fill the vacancy. It has been the custom, where a vacancy occurs early in the session, to call a special election to fill the place. Practically every session of the legislature in the last ten years has lost an assemblyman by death and in each instance it has been filled by an election.

CLEAN UP GREEN BAY

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Eleven persons were to be arraigned in Municipal court Monday morning on charges of frequenting a disorderly house, which was raided late Saturday night by nine deputies under personal supervision of District Attorney Carl F. Young. Eight persons were arraigned before Judge Monahan at a special session of Municipal court Sunday and fined. The raid was part of the district attorney's campaign to clean up Brown county of all houses of ill-fame.

CATS AND DOGS OF CENTRAL EUROPE ARE BECOMING SAVAGE

BUDAPEST.—Even the cats and dogs of Central Europe have degenerated as a result of the war, says Professor Balkanyi, director of the veterinary school here, who is investigating how the habits of domestic animals have been influenced by that cause. Most of the town-bred cats in this part of the world refuse to drink milk because it is unknown by them, due to the lack of milk during the war, the professor asserts.

"Both cats and dogs are relapsing to the savage ways of their untamed ancestors," he says. "The vagrancy of dogs is startling. Pet dogs elope from heart-broken mistresses, joining packs of mangy village dogs, where they live in communist equality."

The same authority says that, besides hydrophobia, nervous diseases are very frequent among animals. "I am afraid domestic animals in Eastern Europe are degenerating and that the stock must be replenished from overseas.

ENTHUSIASM SHOWN IN OPENING GAMES OF CHURCH LEAGUE

Congregationalists and Methodists Win Initial Games at Y. M. C. A. Saturday Night

The first of a series of athletic contests conducted by the churches of La Crosse was held Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. From the attendance and enthusiasm shown the events will prove very popular. The galleries were crowded to the limit to watch the games, the first between the junior teams of the Congregational and Presbyterian churches, and the second between the Baptist and West Avenue seniors. The Congregational juniors because of their early practice, had the advantage over the Presbyterian lads, who were together for the first time Saturday. The final score was 24 to 0 in favor of the Congregational juniors.

The second game of the evening was between the First Baptist and West Avenue M. E. seniors. This was the star attraction. Every point made was a point earned, being a hot scrimmage from start to finish. There were really no outstanding players on either team except Captain Renner of the West Avenue M. E., who did much to liven up the game by his clever passing and floor work. There were no dull moments. Every man played his best and his hardest. It was anybody's game until the last. The first half closed with a score of 10 to 7 in favor of the West Avenue boys. The second half opened up with a basket by the Baptist boys and from then until the final whistle there was a constant throwing and passing that made one doubtful of the victory. The game closed with the laurels going to the Methodist boys with a score of 17 to 13.

Lineups:

West Avenue M. E.—O. Anderson and Herbert, guards; Lewis, center; Renner and Petrosik, forwards.

First Baptists—Koshab and Knudson, forwards; L. Kilian, center; G. Kilian and Marti, forwards.

Baskets—Koshab 1, Knudson 1, L. Kilian 4, D. Lewis 1, Renner 3, Petrosik 3.

Free throws—Knudson 1, Renner 2, Petrosik 1.

Congregational—Bunge and Burgess, forwards; Miller, center; Allen and Loss, guards.

Presbyterian — Zimmer and H. Dewey, guards; C. Dewey, center; Blakely and Thatro, forwards.

Baskets—Bunge 4, Burgess 2, Miller 6.

Schedule:

Saturday, January 22, 2 p. m., Salzer Memorial Juniors vs. Caledonia Street M. E. Juniors.

Saturday evening beginning at 8—First M. E. Seniors vs. Presbyterian Seniors, and Caledonia M. E. Seniors vs. First Congregational Seniors.

AUDIT STATE INSTITUTIONS

BISMARCK, N. D.—A bill was introduced in the North Dakota house to provide an appropriation of $12,000 to pay for an audit of the bank of North Dakota, and other state industries.

The audit was ordered in an initiated law adopted at the November election, but no provision was made to pay for it.

The house concurrent resolution calling on congress to put an end to "gambling" in grain and "short selling," was passed by the senate was eliminated references to allowing supply and demand to control prices.

She Wasn't Sure

"Can you send me some coal right away?"

"Egg coal, mum?"

"Well," said the bride, "I want this to cook a turkey."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The sign up said "No Hunting,"
But Georgie took a chance,
And then he heaved a mighty sigh
An' round about did dance—
The farmer who put up the sign
Had shot him in the pants.

MUST HAVE RED BUTTON FOR ALL EVENTS BUT TWO IN THE WINTER CARNIVAL

The committee on sports for the Winter Sparts Carnival to be held in connection with the Wisconsin Corn and Grain Show January 26 to 29 again wish to emphasize the fact that all who compete in the various events must have a Red Button, and that this button must be conspicuously worn during the events. In case of teams competing, each member of the team must wear the Red Button.

This ruling does not effect those who compete in Event No. 1, the skating efficiency test for boys and girls of graded and high school ages and Event No. 11, the dog derby for boys and girls.

The above explanation is made in view of the fact that many inquiries have been made as to the use of the Red Button in the sporting events. Entries are coming in fast, and the committee urges those who intend to take part in the sports program to make their entries not later than January 20th, so that a place may be reserved for all who wish to enter. Entries must be sent to W. J. Wittich, phy-ed director of the State Normal school.

LA CROSSE BOWLERS WIN SPECIAL MATCH FROM DUBUQUE TEAM

Locals Have Narrow Margin of 33 Pins; Wittenberg Hits 239 Single Game

The La Crosse bowling team won the special match from the Leith Furniture company of Dubuque Sunday night by the narrow margin of 33 pins. La Crosse grand total was 2744 as against Dubuque's 2681.

Although the visitors rolled consistent scores in every game, the only member of the Dubuque aggregation to go over the 200 mark was Lorenz, who rolled 213 in the final game.

Wittenberg hung up high individual total in the game when he hit 239 in the second game. Williams rolled 198, 159 and 214. This was a special 850 match.

The totals are as follows:

"WOOF!" SAID WOLF

As He Went After Man Who Thought Him Ill

HELENA, Mont.—"Don't fool with a wolf just because he looks thin and sick," advises Julius Hendrickson of Harlowway.

Julius ought to know. He has just climbed from a tree where a wolf chased him.

A wolf had been raiding stock. Julius set out poisoned meat.

When he saw a scrawny wolf foaming at the mouth, he thought he had his poison victim.

Julius swung a shovel at the wolf. The wolf dodged, then started for Julius.

"Woof! woof!" said the wolf.

Julius threw the shovel, then started for the nearest tree.

The wolf kept him there for hours. Bounties were paid on 114 wolves killed in Montana last year. Forty-six mountain lions and 10,024 coyotes were killed.

He Was Very Successful

Ticks—You remember young Grabber, who went west a couple of years ago, don't you?

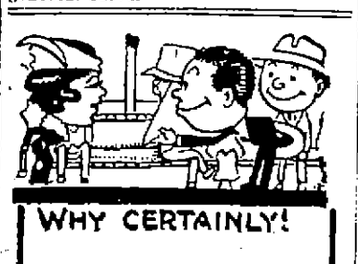

Wickles—Yes; how'd he do?

Ticks—Do? Why, simply great. He cleared five thousand dollars the first year.

Wickles—I want to know! And how did he do the second year?

Ticks—Well, the second year he cleared the country.—Boston Courier.

MORE POWER GIVEN COLLEGE FACULTIES UNDER NEW CHANGES

Recommendations for Changes Made Public by Executive Committees in Charge

NEW YORK.—More power is given to college faculties in the administrative affairs of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, in recommendations made public today by the executive and advisory committees of that body.

One important change suggested is that of merging of the advisory and faculty committees with a combined membership of five instead of eight. Heretofore the faculty committee has served merely in an advisory capacity with no voting power. Under the new plan, three of the committee's members would be appointed by the institutions winning first, second, and third places in the annual intercollegiate meets, and the other two are to be appointed by the president of the association.

All recommendations will be submitted to the plenary session of the association here on March 5.

The changes urged in the athletic program are the substitution of a three mile run for the two mile event and the addition of the javelin and discus throws and a 440-yard hurdle race.

Thomas H. Taylor of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology urged holding of cross country races on some other date than an important football game so the interest will not be detracted from the event.

NURSE AND MAN KILLED

ROCHESTER, Minn.—Two persons are dead and a third is seriously wounded as the result of a mysterious shooting Saturday night. The dead were Miss O. Frederickson, nurse at a local hospital and an unidentified man.

According to reports to the police, a man named Kline came to the hospital to take Miss Frederickson for an automobile ride. Just as they entered the car, a man rushed up, drew a pistol and without a word of warning shot both Kline and Miss Frederickson. He then shot and killed himself.

Miss Frederickson died at the hospital a short time later and Kline is seriously wounded.

Police said search of the dead man's clothing failed to reveal his name or a clue that might explain the shooting.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

BELOW COST

We want to state again with greater emphasis that Ford cars are already being sold at a figure actually below cost and for an indefinite period another reduction or change in design is entirely out of the question and not at all contemplated.

The necessary curtailment in production of cars at this time will undoubtedly mean a shortage this spring, so that many desiring Ford cars will be obliged to wait, perhaps, until midsummer for delivery. Better buy now when delivery can be made.

LANESBORO PLANS SKI TOURNAMENT FOR NEXT MONTH

Proceeds of Event to be Turned Over to the Post of the American Legion

LANESBORO, Minn.—(Special.)—This town will again stage a real American ski tournament, which will take place some time in February, the exact date not yet being determined, but depending upon the amount of snow which falls between now and then, as the hill will require a good deal of work upon it before the event takes place.

All money taken in on the day of the tournament will, after expenses are paid, be turned over to the Henry M. Gutterson post, American legion of Lanesboro. In order to ward against any defeat because of bad weather upon the day of the tournament, the Lanesboro business men are being asked to pledge themselves to make up any deficiency. Business men present at the preliminary meeting held recently, signed liberally towards this end and all others are expected to help in the same proportion. It is planned to secure the nation's best ski men for the day and all amateur men of Fillmore and Houston will be invited to attend and compete. The prizes will be large enough to bring out all good ski men. The boys of the American legion are also planning a dance for the evening. The president of the Lanesboro Ski club is Olaf Thompson of Lanesboro.

WIFE MURDERER KILLED

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—With his back to a tree and a revolver in his hand, G. N. Burhart, sought in connection with the killing of his wife, near Womble, Ark., was shot to death by a posse in the light of his camp fire on the summit of Pigeon mountain, Montgomery county, Saturday. Burkhart's body was riddled with bullets when he refused to permit officers to come to the fire under the pretence of getting warm.

Where Standard Oil Efficiency Is Needed Most

IN the ten Middle Western States served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) there is one automobile for each 9 persons. It is estimated that 65% of these vehicles are owned by farmers. That is why the utmost of efficiency in refining, manufacturing and distributing gasoline and other petroleum products is needed most in this great territory.

To indicate the tremendous increase in the number of cars and trucks, the following statement of 1919 and 1920 registrations by states is given:

STATES	1919	1920
So. Dakota	104,625	122,040
Iowa	363,000	442,200
Minnesota	259,743	323,572
Missouri	229,577	295,817
Kansas	228,601	265,385
No. Dakota	82,885	90,840
Michigan	296,378	412,275
Wisconsin	236,974	303,246
Indiana	277,255	332,207
Illinois	478,438	569,127
	2,557,476	3,156,709

To enable these machines to operate in all weather, under all conditions, and wherever they may be located, an adequate supply of gasoline is needed. To supply this need is the constant endeavor of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The refineries operated by this Company are working night and day to increase the yield of gasoline taken from crude oil, without in any way sacrificing the quality of the gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operates a distribution system maintained at as near to 100% efficiency as is humanly possible. To do this calls for a minute and unwearying study of local conditions, and for constant anticipation of future needs.

All activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are co-ordinated to the highest degree of efficiency to insure maximum economy.

Thus in the Middle West, where efficiency is needed most, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is performing this essential economic service to the benefit of all the people.

Good Art

Good art always consists of two things: First, the observation of fact; secondly, the manifesting of human design and authority in the way that fact is told. Great and good art must unite the two; it cannot exist for a moment but in their unity; it consists of the two as essentially as water consists of oxygen and hydrogen, or marble of lime and carbonic acid.—Ruskin.

PROMISES CAMPAIGN FOR LIQUOR LAWS IN BADGER STATE

Dry Commissioner Declares Druggists Must Have Permits to Sell

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin druggists are required under the Mulberger law to have permits for the sale of intoxicating liquors. Prohibition Commissioner T. T. Hazelberg said today in announcing that the commissioner would soon start to vigorously enforce this provision of the law. Applications for permits to handle intoxicants must be obtained by druggists from the prohibition office here.

Each pharmacist is required to keep a stub record of the date liquor was sold, the name of the person to whom it was sold, his age, the kind and quantity of liquor, and a statement that the liquor was for medicinal purposes. The name of the physician must also be signed to the stub, which is to be signed by the applicant and the druggist.

On the bottle containing the liquor it is required that a label be placed showing the serial number of the prescription, the name and address of the pharmacist, the kind and quantity of liquor and the date of the sale. On the third Tuesday in April of each year, the pharmacist is required to file with the town or city clerk all his stub records of the previous year, and on the last day of each month he must file all certificates.

Mr. Hazelberg declared that druggist violating provisions of the law would have their permits to sell liquor taken from them.

Private Stocking

A north shore citizen took Junior up on his knee and asked him: "Well, my little son, what would you like Santa Claus to bring you for Christmas?"

"Oh, I want him to bring me a humdinger."

"A humdinger, eh? And may I ask you to describe one?"

"I don't know how they look, but when you and Mr. Jones came up from the basement the other evening you said to him, 'Wasn't that a humdinger?' and he said, 'It sure was! I would like to have one just like that for Christmas.' So I thought if it was something nice for Christmas I would like to have one too."

Shippings, Oils and Tractions Lead Rally in Day's Trading

NEW YORK—Early gains were extended during the first hour's trading at Monday's market, shippings, oils and tractions showing especial strength. The latter, presumably on prospects of an increased fare, rose 2 to 5 points. Reactions of 1 to 2 points before noon in steels, equipments and motors, were accompanied by a break in investment rails. Reading fell almost 2 points and Southern Pacific 1. International Paper lost 2¼, Studebaker 1¼, Republic Steel 1⅜ and Baldwin Locomotive 1. Coppers were dull despite rumors of a possible merger of the low priced companies. Foreign exchange, particularly the rate on London, rose appreciably over last week's final quotations.

Industrials and rails followed contrary courses at the opening of the stock market, the former soon recording a number of substantial gains, while transportations were inclined to react. Crucible Steel resumed its recent leadership at an early advance of 2¼ points. Vanadium rose 1¼, General Electric 1¾ and Mexican Petroleum one. The local tractions also strengthened with equipments, motors, coppers and chemicals. Atlantic Coast Line fell one point and moderate recessions attended the first offerings of Southern Pacific, Reading, Chesapeake and Ohio, International Paper, Sears-Roebuck and General Asphalt.

WHEAT MAKES JUMP

Sharp Advance Comes on Resumption of Seaboard Buying; Corn Also Higher

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat moved up quickly in price Monday as a result of seaboard buying, presumably for Europe. It was said Germany and Italy would take the bulk of the grain which was purchased. Denial of reports that seventy million bushels of wheat had been omitted from the visible supply statement was to some extent a bullish factor. Opening prices which ranged from ⅜c decline to a like advance with March $1.73 to $1.74½ and May $1.65½ to $1.66½ were followed by material gains all around.

An unusual feature was European bidding for April shipments of wheat. The market closed strong, 2¼ to 3⅛c net higher with March $1.75 to ½ and May $1.69½ to ¾.

Corn sympathized with the upturn in wheat. After opening ⅛c off to ⅛c up including May at 70¼ to 71c, the market scored a light general advance.

Although consignments to Chicago and St. Louis were said to be the heaviest yet this season, prices closed firm at ⅝c to ⅞c net advance with May 71⅝c.

Oats touch new low figures for the session but soon rallied. The start varied from ⅛c decline to ⅛c gain, May 45⅛ to ⅛c.

Firmness in the hog market made provisions higher.

GENEVA IS REJOICING

Sure City Will Be Permanent League Capital

GENEVA.—When Geneva saw the last of the delegates of the first assembly of the League of Nations leave, it breathed a sigh of relief.

For no one had even murmured a suggestion that the seat of the league should be moved away from here.

It is taken as definitely settled that Geneva will be the capital city of the league.

Before the assembly met, there were two suggestions as to other locations of the seat of the league.

In German and Austrian circles, it was suggested that Vienna was the logical place for the league, because it was a great city situated in the very heart of Europe.

Major David Davies, an English member of parliament, boosted Constantinople. He maintained that its position on the Bosphorus, its strategic importance, its situation between Europe and Asia, all pointed to it as the logical place.

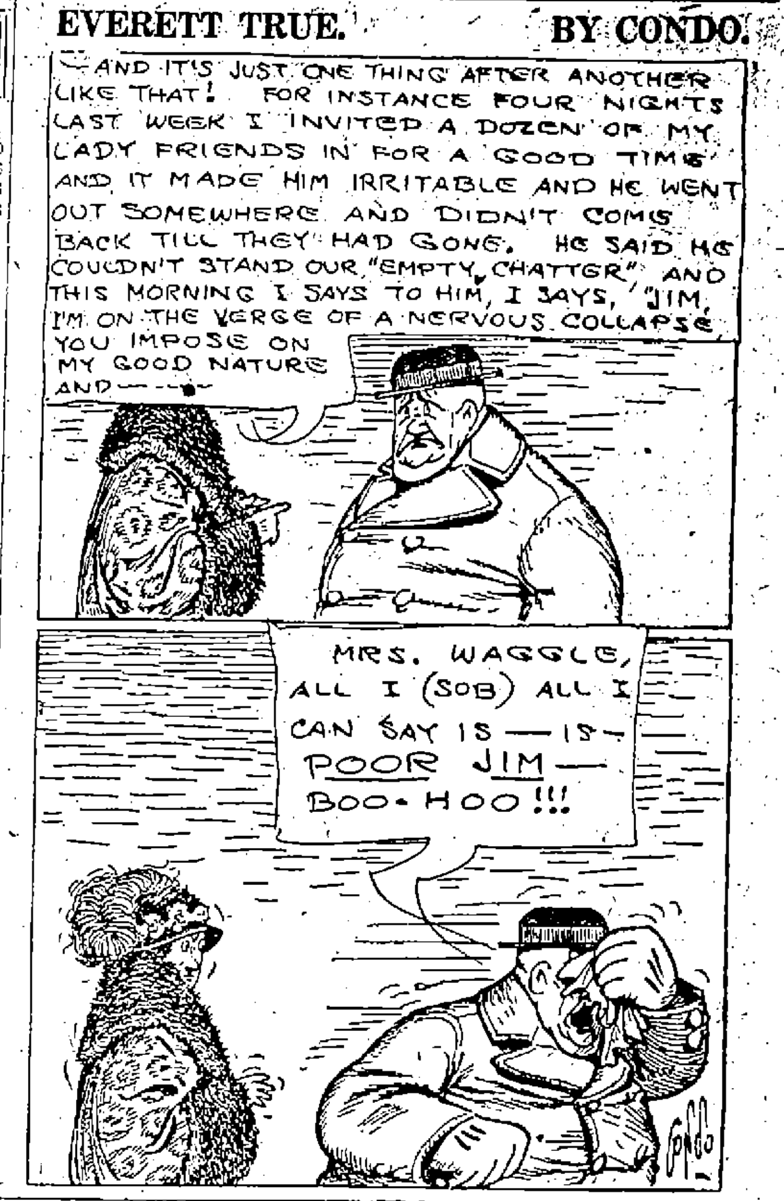

However, among the delegates not a voice was raised in favor of either the Austrian or the Turkish cities as the capital.

The Firefly's Secret

A Princeton physiologist is said to have solved the problem of the firefly's light. The chemistry of the process is difficult enough. In effect, the luminous substance burns in oxygen like any fuel only instead of forming carbon dioxide and water, as other luminants do, the products of the combusion are of such a nature that when allowed to stand away from air, they change back into the original substance, and are ready to be burned again. The experimenter obtained the "light without heat" in a test tube, which glowed when shaken.

Good Intentions Do Not Protect

It will not help your family, to have your friends say, after you are gone, "He meant well." Good intentions, if not carried out, may pave the way for an uncomfortable future for those you love.

You are providing for your family now; protect their future, also, by having your lawyer record your intentions regarding the disposition of your estate and the support of those who may be left behind. In other words, make your will. To insure these intentions being carried out, with impartiality, economy and strict observance of your directions, name a Trust Company as your executor and trustee.

The combined judgment and experience of a Trust Company's specialists in estate management prevent the costly errors of an individual's experiments.

You will be interested in reading a message entitled "The Business Side of Happy New Year," published by associated trust companies of the United States and appearing in the January, 1921, issues of the following magazines: Scribner's, Harper's, Atlantic Monthly, Century, Review of Reviews, World's Work, Cosmopolitan, System, and Outlook.

This Company is participating in the national magazine advertising campaign and has available for distribution copies of the booklet entitled, "Safeguarding Your Family's Future," mentioned in the magazine advertisements.

SPARTA BOARDER ELOPES WITH WIFE AND HUSBAND'S FORD

Sheriff Finds Couple at Viola; Man Goes Free, Woman Returns to Home

FIRE DELAYS WORK AT ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT

Citizens Discuss Light Plant and Other Civic Improvements

SPARTA, Wis.—W. M. L. Slater of the town of Scott, was arrested on Wednesday by Sheriff Charles Torgeson. Some time ago, Slater was boarding at the home of Charles Revels and a week ago he left taking with him Mr. Revels' Ford car and also his wife, it is alleged. The sheriff found the couple at Viola and brought them to Sparta. They were given a hearing on Thursday evening. Slater was released, and the woman also, on condition that she would return to her husband.

Fire broke out Sunday afternoon in the electric light plant in Sparta. There was no one at the station, the plant was dead, but the fire which evidently had started in the wooden part of the plant had spread considerably when the alarm was turned in. No great amount of damage was done, however, because of the efficient work of the firemen and after a couple of hours' work, the fire was extinguished. Probably in two or three days, the plant can again be in operation. Fortunately the plant at Angelo was in condition to carry the load, or the city would have been in total darkness.

Generator Has Arrived

The fifty-ton engine and generator for the electric light plant of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power plant has arrived from Chicago and Sunday afternoon was started on its way to the plant at Angelo. Two of the large caterpillar tractors from Camp Robinson hauled the huge bulk of iron and steel to its place at the plant, where a new concrete foundation for the entire has just been completed.

It is expected that when this large outfit is installed, Sparta may be restored to its normal light system.

Plans are already well under way for the annual Fathers-Sons banquet, which will be held Wednesday, Feb. 2. The committees in charge are as follows: Program, F. C. Bray, Rev. E. E. Horth, Dr. S. D. Beebe and Ernest Dorwin.

Besides musical selections and speeches by local talent, there will be one speaker from away, hired for the occasion; finance committee, Harley W. Jefferson, Lee Nolan and Otis George; tickets and registration committee, L. R. Moore and Lee Nolan. Boys may register at Moore's Jewelry store, and men having no son of their own to take, may take some boy from the register; committee on the hall, W. P. Hitchcock, Carl Pierce, Rev. J. S. Morris, W. A. Carr and John Rhynie; committee on decorations, Lee Canfield, J. O. Paulson and Spencer Vleth; advertising committee, Rev. J. S. Morris and Rev. E. E. Horth; committee on "eats", Leo Evenson, W. A. Carr and Fred Herrman.

F. C. Bray is general chairman. Probably the entire week, following the banquet, will be called "Fathers-Sons' Week", and will be appropriately observed. Special services or addresses in the churches and other entertainments of interest will be given. A mothers-daughters' banquet will be given Tuesday evening, February 1, but definite plans are not made as yet.

Kiwanis Talks Lighting

At the regular weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club, held at Hotel Sidney, the question of the city owning the electric lighting plant was discussed. Mayor McCoy opened the discussion by setting forth the many things that the city wants to do in the near future, and showed how it would be impossible to take such an additionally large expense upon the top of the other. There are sandy roads to be paved, a new high school is needed, the parks need attention and added sewers for the city, are in demand. The mayor thought the people would have to make up their minds what they want first, and not try to do it all at once. Harley Jefferson spoke against the city buying the electric light plant. Zell Rice and Ray B. Graves spoke in favor of municipal ownership.

At the roll call, each responded on whether the city should own the plant or not. The vote was thirty-six against the municipal ownership and four were in favor and six did note vote either way.

Mr. Silverthorne of Wausau, former democratic candidate for secretary of state, was present at the meeting, a guest of Harley W. Jefferson, and gave a few interesting remarks.

Farmers Meet at Cataract

The Farmers' Institute held at Cataract last week, was a very successful meeting. A large number were in attendance at the gathering and keen interest was taken in the work. The Ladies' Aid society of Cataract furnished a fine dinner, and local talent gave vaudeville stunts at the evening sessions that helped with the entertainment of the delegates.

The Sunday school class of William Benedict held a meeting and enjoyed a banquet supper in the parlors of the church Wednesday evening at 6:30. Toasts were given by the Class President, Seeley Gray; Vice-President Robert Barney; Treasurer Garth Tourville. Rev. E. E. Horth gave an interesting talk on his trip in the Rocky Mountains, and a number of the guests present gave little speeches. It was a very enjoyable occasion.

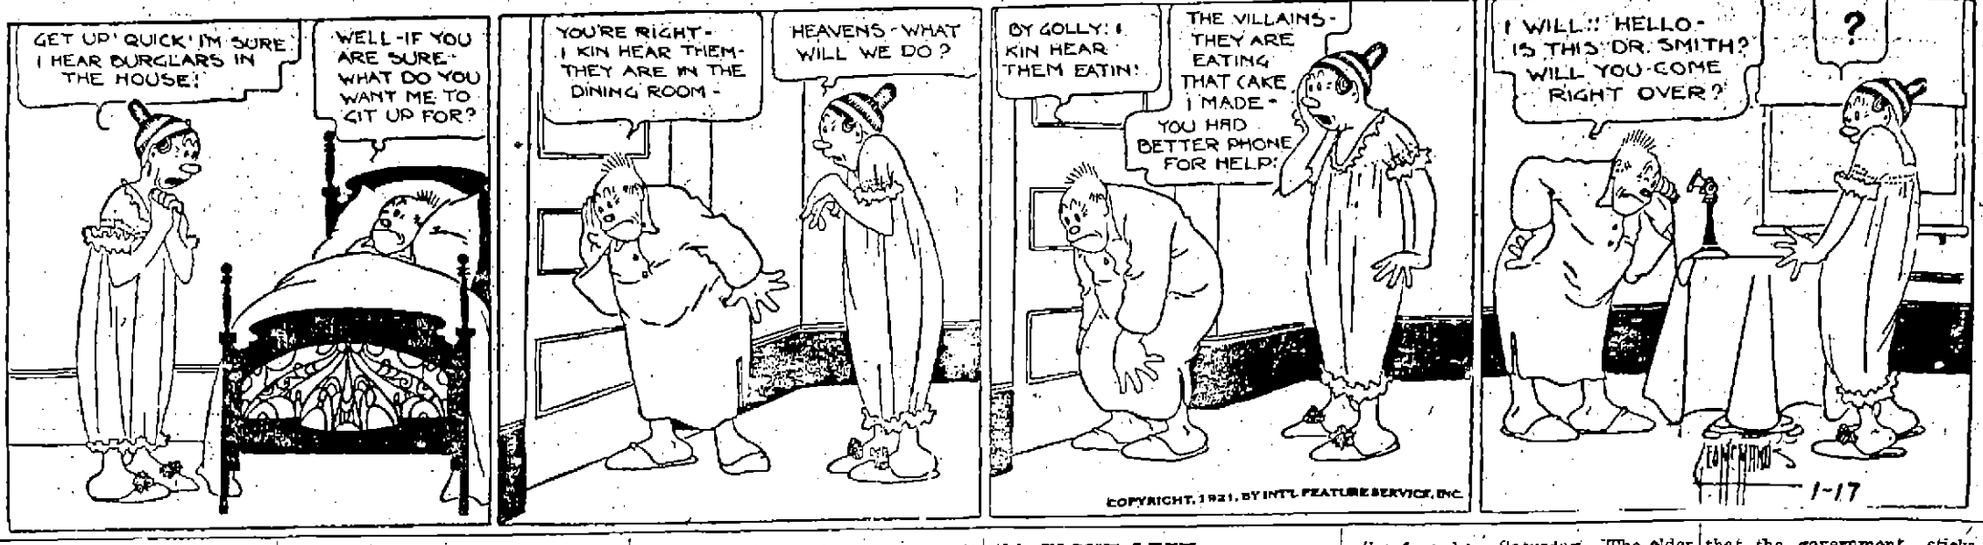

The Advance Club met Tuesday evening with Miss Esther Roberts on South Court street. The subject for discussion was "Modern American Poets". The leaders were Misses Batty and Fehlandt.

The Tatapochon Camp Fire Girls took a hike out to the home of May Herman Saturday night, and enjoyed a picnic supper there.

URGES BIRTH STRIKE

Chairman of Women's Peace Society Seeks Disarmament

WASHINGTON.—"If other means fail, the women of the world should unite in a birth strike to force world disarmament."

This is the view of Mrs. Jessie Hardy MacKaye, legislative chairman of the Women's Peace society.

She is directing the fight of that organization for passage by congress of the Brooks resolution, directing the president to "invite all nations to send delegates to a convention to provide for disarmament."

"The more mothers do for their sons," says Mrs. MacKaye, "the better the boys are developed physically and mentally, the more certain they are to be swallowed up in the war machines.

"Until some definite steps are taken toward disarmament, to reduce rather than increase the certainty of war, what incentive is there for any woman to bring into the world a son dearer than her own life-blood?

"Women now hold the balance of power.

"If they work as hard to prevent war as they worked to win the last, there will never be another."

POET LAUREATE OF BRITISH EMPIRE TO REMAIN ON THE JOB

LONDON, — Robert Bridges, poet laureate of the British Empire, is to remain in that office, despite a suggestion that he be removed. His fitness to do so was questioned the other day in the House of Commons by Horatio Bottomley, who asked the premier if Britain's national board had written any poetry on the war, on the declaration of peace or on the unveiling of the cenotaph, and if not, "would the prime minister consider appointing a national poet whose muse was more attuned to the soul of the British nation."

Premier Lloyd George replied that "so far as he was aware the poet laureate had written nothing about the events mentioned, but Mr. Bridges had written many poems during the war, and it was not considered necessary to make any change.

A wag in the House raised loud laughter by solemnly suggesting that Mr. Bottomley himself should take over the job.

When another member suggested that Rudyard Kipling should be offered the post, there was a chorus of "No!"

Mr. Bridges was appointed laureate by former Premier Asquith, his friend and admirer, in 1913.

BOIES DENIES IT!

"Through? Not I!" Says Pennsylvania Boss

WASHINGTON.—Has Boies Penrose lost his pep, his pull and his punch?

Boies says he hasn't, that he's getting stronger physically and politically every day.

Close observers of political situations say Boies is through; that his recent illness sapped his vigor and his prestige as well.

They point to his change of front on the emergency tariff bill.

When Penrose arrived in Washington Dec. 20 he said the bill wouldn't do, no, never!

But western and southern senators, republicans and democrats, didn't care a hang whether Boies was for it, or feminist.

The bill grew in strength.

Then Boies said he was for it.

Many who have followed Penrose's career believe he realizes that he has lost a great deal of his former physical aggressiveness and that he will now try to achieve his ends by subtle strategy.

Promises

"Have you kept all the promises you have made?"

"Kept 'em!" exclaimed Senator Sorghum. "I haven't even kept count"!—Washington Star.

NO FIGHT LEFT IN GERMANY

MILAN, Italy.—There is no possibility of Germany ever attempting a war of revenge, having been cured forever of her militaristic spirit, Dr. Bernhard Wernburg, former German minister of finance, told delegates at the league of nations societies conference.

Dr. Constantin Dumba, former Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, declared that not even a union with Germany could save Austria economically, but said he believed such a union was inevitable. Dr. Dernburg replied Germany could not help Austria economically now as she was too badly off herself.

KILLS HIS BROTHER

ST. PETER, Minn.—William Kunzman, 29, was shot and killed by his brother, John Kunzman, 34, following a quarrel at their home seven miles from here Saturday. The elder man then fled and a posse is searching for him.

The quarrel began last night in the lonely cabin, where the brothers made their home in the winter month. This morning William went to a neighbors and asked to remain there the rest of the winter, saying he and his brother could not agree. The neighbor and William went to the cabin, where John had remained to get William's clothing. The brothers resumed their quarrel and the shooting followed.

You Need

Beach's Wonder Suds

For All Fine Laundering

Three Reasons Why:

1 Dissolves more readily than soap flakes. BEACH'S WONDER SUDS is pure soap in concentrated powder form. It dissolves thoroughly the instant it touches the water, and consequently there remain no soap particles to adhere to the delicate fabric.

2 BEACH'S WONDER SUDS is absolutely odorless. It is pure as water itself, and contains nothing that causes you to choke or cough or sneeze.

3 BEACH'S WONDER SUDS is economical. Purest soap in concentrated powder form, it requires only a teaspoonful to a quart of water.

A package of BEACH'S WONDER SUDS will convince you that your dainty lingerie, blouses and fragile silken accessories can be laundered perfectly and still retain their pristine freshness.

There never has been, and never will be, anything to match them for the skin.

Other soaps cost five times more

There are soaps which cost five times as much as Palmolive. Most facial soaps are higher priced. But there are no soap ingredients more costly than palm and olive oils.

There is nothing so luxurious.

It is only because we make it for millions that Palmolive sells at 10c.

Palmolive factories work day and night to supply the demand. The costly oils are bought in enormous quantities. Result, the popular 10-cent price and the most popular toilet soap in the world.

Fortunate is the woman who can answer "yes." But many a woman, if she is honest with herself, is forced to be in doubt—after that she pays stricter attention to her personal attractions.

A radiant skin, glowing and healthy, is more than a "sign" of youth. It is youth. And any woman can enjoy it.

Beauty's basis

is pure, mild, soothing soap. Never go to sleep without using it. Women should never overlook this all-important fact. The basis of beauty is a thoroughly clean skin. And the only way to it is soap.

There is no harm in cosmetics, or in powder, rouge, if you frequently remove them. Never leave them on overnight.

The skin consists of countless glands and pores. They clog with oil, with dirt, with perspiration—with refuse from within and without.

The first requirement is to cleanse those pores. And soap alone can do that.

A costly mistake

Harsh, irritating soaps have led many women to omit soap. That is a costly mistake. A healthy, rosy, clear, smooth skin must be a clean skin, first of all.

There is no need for irritating soap. Palmolive soothes and softens while it cleans. It is based on palm and olive oils.

Force the lather into the pores by a gentle massage. Every touch is balmy. Then all the foreign matter comes out in the rinsing.

If your skin is very dry, use cold cream before and after washing.

No medicaments

Palmolive is just a soothing, cleansing soap. Its blandness comes through blending palm and olive oils. Nothing since the world began has proved so suitable for delicate complexions.

All its beneficial effects come through gentle, thorough cleaning. There are no medicaments. No drugs can do what Nature does when you aid her with this scientific Palmolive cleansing.

Millions of women get their envied complexions through the use of Palmolive soap.
